

LAVAL PROMISES BRITAIN SUPPORT

Early Vote On Inflation Will Be Forced In House

ROOSEVELT'S STRENGTH TO FACE TEST

Refinancing Bill Supporters Lack 11 Names on Vote Petition

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A direct test of President Roosevelt's strength in the house will be faced on the currency inflation issue during the first two weeks of the session, it was learned today.

Supporters of the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage refinancing bill, calling for a potential currency expansion of $8,000,000,000, plan to open the session with an immediate drive for a vote.

Sponsors of the measure, which has the backing of 30 state legislatures in memorials to congress, lack 11 names on a petition designed to force a vote over administration wishes.

Democratic leaders are quietly laying plans to prevent completion of the petition by pressure on members. The Frazier-Lemke bill has been canvassing members during the recess.

Rep. Usher L. Burdick, R. N. D., said the necessary additional names should be obtained a week after congress convenes.

The petition had 207 names when congress adjourned. Rep. William Lemke, R. N. D., co-author of the bill, will lead the fight for the 218 names to complete the petition. He claims sufficient pledges to put it over. Democratic leaders claim they can obtain withdrawals enough to offset any gains.

The bill provides for long-time refinancing at low interest rates of all farm mortgages through a plan by which $3,000,000,000 in new currency would be used as a revolving fund. This fund would be used again and again. If necessary, until the entire $3,000,000,000 or $3,000,000,000 farm mortgage indebtedness is refinanced.

CHALLENGE EPICS TO BACK PRESIDENT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—U. S. Senator William Gibbs McAdoo today threw down a challenge to Upton Sinclair and his Epic followers to support President Roosevelt unconditionally or prepare for a vigorous fight to retain their Democratic party labels.

"I am willing to cooperate with every element in the party which sincerely wishes to compose local differences," he told a California Democratic assembly luncheon, "but if any group or class wants a fight, they will have it in full measure."

McAdoo took sharp exception to the statement of State Senator Culbert Olson, chairman of the Democratic state central committee, that the "Epic or Sinclair element will insist upon a declaration for 'production for use' in the presidential primary next year."

ROOSEVELT WILL ADDRESS CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—President Roosevelt probably will deliver his message to the second session of the Seventy-fourth Congress in person, Speaker Joseph W. Byrns said today.

Byrns said that either on Friday or Saturday the third or fourth of January, he expected the President to appear in the house chamber and suggest definitely the legislative program for the last session of the present Congress.

LATE FLASHES

ALAMEDA AIRPORT, ALAMEDA, Calif., Dec. 27.—Pan American Airways today postponed the take-off of its China Clipper for the Orient to 3 p. m. Saturday. Continued headwinds along the route to Hawaii forced the postponement.

VENTURA, Dec. 27.—Great combars borne on a record high tide battered through the sea wall tore up 400 feet of seashore highway, and littered the coast with wreckage for miles late today.

URUGUAY GOVERNMENT ORDERS SOVIET MINISTER TO LEAVE

THIRD PARTY THREAT MADE BY TOWNSEND

Candidate Already Chosen, is Announcement Made at Mass Meeting

EL CENTRO, Cal., Dec. 27.—Unless either of the two major political parties endorses the Townsend old age pension plan, a third party candidate for president will be injected into the 1936 race, Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the old age movement, warned today.

Dr. Townsend made his announcement at an old age rally meeting attended by several thousand followers last night.

"The third party is organized and ready to move into the field with a candidate if we know Republicans and Democrats do not intend to endorse our plan," he declared.

Greeted With Cheers

The elderly Long Beach physician's statement was greeted with wild cheers which kept him from continuing his speech for several minutes.

Dr. Townsend said he would not be the old age movement's candidate for president because "I do not want to commit suicide."

"There are younger men and able men ready to take the leadership," he said. "We are organizing in every state and have all the legal data necessary to put a new party into operation. We will go on every state primary ticket if necessary."

Dr. Townsend indicated that his followers were eager to get the third party under way if the other two parties do not endorse the old age movement.

NEW GOVERNOR

W. Elmer Holt of Miles City, Mont., who has been named governor of Montana to complete the term of Gov. Frank H. Cooney, who died recently. Holt is a Democrat.

ZASU PITTS IS CALLED BEFORE GRAND JURORS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—More mystery crept into the Thelma Todd death case investigation today when a statement was attributed to a night watchman that he saw "strange activity" in the seaside garage at the approximate time the blond screen actress died there of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Acknowledging the report, Assistant District Attorney U. U. Blalock promptly ordered a subpoena issued for the appearance of Earl H. Carter, the night watchman, before the county grand jury which resumed its investigation today.

Blalock said he had been informed that Carter had "something of importance" to relate. The information was to the effect that the PUBLISHER DOUBTS VICTORY FOR G. O. P.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 27.—Col. Frank Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher and New Deal critic, told interviewers here today he doubted the Republicans would win next year. He charged the New Deal with holding back relief expenditures in order to have money available during the political campaign, to be used "with maximum political effect."

"I am not one of those who go around spreading over-confidence," Colonel Knox said. "The Republican party faces its toughest fight since 1896."

High cost of government and the building of what he regards as a "political bureaucracy" in Washington are major issues for 1936 in Colonel Knox's opinion.

SAN DIEGO POLICE SEEKING KIDNAPERS

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 27.—City police and the sheriff's office joined today in a search for three machine-gun kidnapers who held up and robbed Jack C. Von Bloeker, Jr., University of California student, late last night and tied and gagged him.

Von Bloeker lay in a deserted canyon east of Balboa park for several hours before his muffled cries for help were heard.

He had a severe gash in his head where one of the gangsters had slugged him. The three men took $32 from his wallet.

PHONE GIRL, POLICE AND FIREMEN COOPERATE IN SAVING LIFE OF CHILD

QUICK cooperation of city police and firemen, and a local telephone girl, yesterday afternoon saved the life of two-year-old Armando Valardez, of 1034 Logan street, Santa Ana, when he fell head-first into a filled bath-tub at his home.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, was being bathed by his nine-year-old sister at the time of the accident. A telephone call to Desk Sergeant J. F. McWilliams was given by the Valardez family, according to reports, but they failed to tell him what the nature of the accident was and where the home was located. A telephone girl quickly learned the address and told Sergeant

U. S. SHIPMENTS OF GAS TO WAR ZONE INCREASE

Exports Heavier Despite Efforts of Government to Curb Them

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Large increases in American gasoline shipments to Italy and the Italian war zone were disclosed today, coincident with efforts of the state department to discourage shipment of chromium from the Philippine islands to Italy.

The state department used its influence to prevent abnormal shipments of Philippine chromium in the belief that the metal would be used for war purposes.

The increased gasoline shipments during November were heavier despite the administration's efforts to curb abnormal exports of such materials to the war area.

United States exports of gasoline direct to Italian Africa amounted to 110,109 barrels in November, contrasted with 25,714 barrels in October, or a jump of over 400 per cent, according to preliminary commerce department figures. The gasoline presumably was for use in motor convoys and airplanes.

Huge Increase

Exports of gasoline to Italy leaped to 78,284 barrels in November, although none was sent in October. Experts believed the movement represented the Italian effort to get material quickly usable for war purposes and to avoid the time required for refinement of crude oil. A decline in Italian purchases of crude oil for the month was cited as possible support for this theory.

Crude oil shipments for the month to Italy amounted to only 316,955 barrels, compared with 417,474 in October.

Exports of lubricating oil disclosed today were 14,000 barrels.

POLL REVEALS NEW DEAL FAVOR Waning

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Latest returns from the Literary Digest presidential poll showed a future loss in popularity for the New Deal.

A total of 987,153 votes have been received, of which 577,631 answered negatively the question "do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt New Deal to date?" This brought the negative percentage to the new high figure of 58.51 per cent. Last week's percentage was 57.69.

Eleven of the 13 southern states continued solidly New Deal. Only Florida and Oklahoma voted against it. The 12 middle western farm states continued balloting more than three to two against the administration.

Forty-one states have reported thus far. Twenty-nine of these showed displeasure with the administration, while 12 were in support.

MISSION STUDENTS BLAMED FOR RIOTS

TOKYO, Dec. 27.—Students in foreign mission schools of China—subject to American and British influence—are leaders in the present anti-Japanese demonstrations, a foreign office spokesman charged today.

The charge was eloquent of Japanese feeling, now thoroughly roused by widespread student agitation in China against the recent Japanese move to force autonomous government for northern Chinese territory adjoining the Japanese-occupied state of Manchukuo.

It came as the result of questions regarding the receipt by the foreign office of official information on reports in some newspapers that Americans and Britons in China seemed influencing the

Diplomatic Relations Are Severed

Russia Charged With Assisting Revolutionary Activities

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 27.—Uruguay today severed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, whose representatives here were charged with assisting revolutionary activities.

The Soviet minister, Alejandro Minkin, and his entire staff were ordered expelled from the country. Uruguay also will withdraw its representatives from Moscow.

Decision to break relations and hand the minister his passports was reached at a midday meeting of the Uruguayan council of ministers and was announced officially by Foreign Minister Jose E. Zaldívar.

Montevideo long has been regarded as the center of communist activity in South America, and the breaking of relations followed development of evidence which the government asserted directly connected the Soviet embassy here with the recent bloody revolutionary outbreak in Rio de Janeiro and other parts of Brazil.

Uruguay recognized the Soviet government in 1923. It was not until May 3, 1934, however, that Soviet representation was established here, with Minkin in charge of the legation.

Changes that the recent abortive revolution in Brazil was part of a plan for communist uprisings in Uruguay and Argentina have been made by Brazilian authorities.

They claimed Luis Prestes, radical leader, was financed by the Communist International and that he staged the Rio de Janeiro army movement to show what he could do in the other countries if he was well supported.

Montevideo has been regarded as the central communist rallying point in South America.

BENSON SUCCEEDS SENATOR SCHALL

ST. PAUL, Dec. 27.—Elmer A. Benson, state banking commissioner, today was appointed United States senator to complete the unexpired term of the late Senator Thomas D. Schall. The appointment was made by Gov. Floyd B. Olson.

Benson, a strong Farmer-Labor party member, takes the place of an equally ardent Republican and bitter enemy of Olson.

Olson has announced he himself will seek the senatorship at the next election. His appointment of Benson to fill out Schall's term was regarded as a gesture to honor Benson for his loyal party work.

Benson, it was conceded, will not seek re-election next November and place Olson in the position of campaigning against his own appointee.

GOV. HOFFMAN NOT TO AID HAUPTMANN

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 27.—Chances for Bruno Richard Hauptmann to live through the week of January 13 seemed increasingly slim today after Gov. Harold G. Hoffman said he did not intend to grant any reprieve to the convicted murderer of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr.

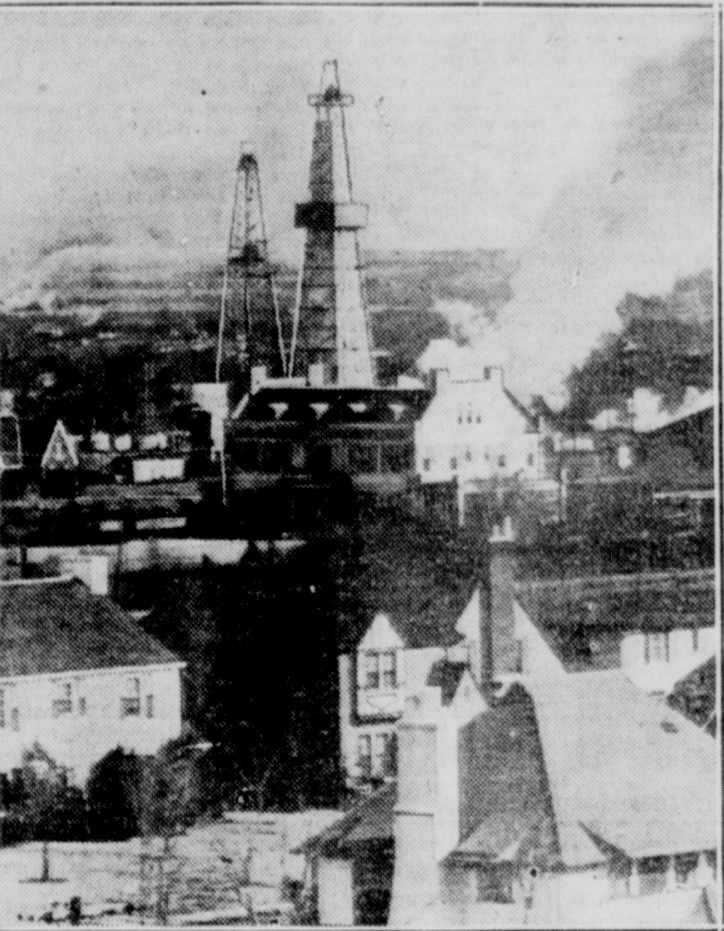

The German carpenter's only remaining hopes are the state court of pardon and attempts of his attorneys to obtain a new trial.

The court of pardons, composed of the governor, the chancellor and six judges of the court of errors and appeals, must vote by a majority to show him any clemency and the governor's vote must be in the majority.

The court meets Monday and it may consider Hauptmann's plea for life then or it may set a date for his execution.

OIL IN GOVERNOR'S YARD

Just to prove to Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma that there still is plenty of black gold in his capital city, a well spouting 12,000 barrels a day was blown in almost in his back yard. The executive mansion is shown directly in front of the towering oil rig, in center of photo. Another well flowing 250 barrels daily was brought in this morning.

ETHIOPIANS IN SOUTH GRIPPED RAID CUT OFF BY EXTREMELY ITALIAN POSTS COLD WEATHER

ADDIS ABABA, Dec. 27.—Raiding Ethiopian warriors have cut the road which runs westward from Makale to the Tembien area on the northern front, and captured a series of Italian positions and 11 machine guns, an official communique said today.

The positions captured were selected by the Italians for defense of the road. They were captured yesterday, the communique said.

The road which the Ethiopians claimed apparently was one running northwestward out of Makale, according to Italian military maps, into the Tembien area. This road leads into an area which the Italians seek to consolidate as part of their territory. The Tembien region seems to be full of bands of Ras Siyoun's tough warriors. They have participated in recent engagements in the Makale area and far behind Makale.

NOVARRO STRANDED IN BUDAPEST HOTEL

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The Star said today it had talked by long distance telephone to Ramon Novarro and the screen player reported he was stranded in Budapest and unable to pay his hotel bill.

The Star said Novarro claimed he had not been paid by the theater in which he appeared here and he had only meagre funds. It said he was attempting to borrow money in order to get to London where he has a scheduled performance on Monday.

Novarro was said to have spent most of Christmas day on the long distance phone trying to raise money.

RECLUSE'S FORTUNE

BOSTON, Dec. 27.—An enigmatic 80-year-old woman, almost legendary in her Victorian setting, who lived a hand-to-mouth existence in a basement corner of her 20-room south end mansion, has left a will distributing $200,000 to charities and public institutions.

The woman was Miss Grace Fletcher Kelley, a distant relative of Daniel Webster, who for the past half century had been a recluse, barring all visitors save three neighbors and a boy who ran errands for her. She died Monday.

What few details of her life were revealed merely added to the mystery which always has surrounded her. The only thing known was that she had been married to one John C. Goodwin, but had divorced him.

UTILITIES PAY $229,905 TO COUNTY UNDER PROTEST; TEST ON LEGALITY OF LAW LOOMS

QUESTIONING the constitutionality of tax legislation which transferred them from state to county assessment rolls, and objecting to "inequality" of their property assessments, public utility corporations have paid $229,905.52 in current taxes to Orange county under protest, it was learned today from County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb.

The amount includes $18,982.34 portion of the total sum, however, that would be subject to recovery in this manner, according to District Attorney W. F. Menton, who said that taxes so collected for schools are not included in the provisions of the statute. Of the $229,905.52 paid under protest, nearly $200,000 represents school collections.

PREMIER IN DEFENSE OF HIS POLICY

Tells Chamber France Will Fight Side by Side if Italy Attacks

PARIS, Dec. 27.—France will fight by the side of Great Britain if the latter is attacked by Italy, Premier Pierre Laval assured the Chamber of Deputies today.

Fighting for the life of his government and defending his policy in the Ethiopian crisis, Laval told the crowded and partly hostile chamber that France has fulfilled in every respect her obligations under the League of Nations covenant.

"I undertook that France would help Britain if she is attacked by Italy," he declared solemnly. "I want to repeat that publicly."

Laval replied spiritedly to the opposition attack, the preliminary blow of which was delivered by Leon Blum, Socialist leader, who denounced Laval's "personal foreign policy," which he said had been seriously discredited by other nations of Europe.

The attack was the fifth and perhaps the most serious against the government in the last month. A vote of confidence will be reached probably tomorrow. The president of the chamber, Fernand Bouisson, announced that 73 deputies were scheduled to speak and that he would suspend the session at about 9 p. m. until 9 a. m. tomorrow, with the possibility of a vote of confidence about 4 p. m.

Echoes Hoare

In his defense, Laval echoed the protestation of Sir Samuel Hoare to the House of Commons that the plan, unsatisfactory as it might have been, was evolved only for the purpose of avoiding a European war.

"It was necessary to calm the atmosphere between Britain and Italy," Laval said. "I did everything to avoid dragging my country into war."

"I also did everything possible to bring about a peaceful settlement. Sir Samuel Hoare and I examined the question of an oil embargo. At that moment, a serious danger presented itself to us. A reading of an extract from Hoare's speech to commons, Laval said he and Hoare had tried to defend the interests of both countries, declaring:

"The Franco-British propositions

DESERT POSSEMEN FIND LOST CHILD

CHANDLER, ARIZ., Dec. 27.—Three-year-old Jackie Bolian, who wandered off into the desert yesterday morning, was found at dawn today by possemen who had combed the district all night, aided by bloodhounds from the Arizona state prison.

The child, found asleep in a ditch, was taken to a hospital at Mesa to recover from exposure and hunger. His condition was described there as "favorable."

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bolian, recent arrivals from Montrose, Colo., wandered away from his family's tent home early yesterday. His parents, after frantically searching for him until afternoon, sought aid of authorities and a brace of bloodhounds were brought from the prison.

COMB SIERRAS FOR SLAYER OF BARMAN

SODA SPRINGS, Calif., Dec. 27.—Posses plowed through snowdrifts on the crest of the High Sierras today, seeking Tony Jones, slayer of Lawrence C. Christensen, Sierra resort and night club operator.

Authorities said Jones fatally wounded Christensen after an argument at the bar of the Rain-bow tavern, on the Reno-Auburn highway. Witnesses said Christensen, in constructing an addition to the tavern, began arguing over dice bets as they rolled dice for drinks.

Jones, they said, left the bar room, obtained a rifle and shot Christensen from the doorway. Carrying the rifle with him, Jones fled.

PREMIER LAVAL PROMISES TO HELP BRITISH

They were judged excessive. They nevertheless were reasonable. He then paid tribute to Honore's speech, quoting from it as follows:

"It is agreed that the Paris propositions are dead, but the road to reconciliation remains open. The co-ordinators will enlarge their activities."

Referring to France's respect for international law, Laval said: "International law prescribes means of preventing war, not generalizing it."

Laval reaffirmed France's faith in the collective machinery of the League, which he said must be used to continue active efforts to avoid war. He denied that British repudiation of the Laval-British co-operation, which is "an essential element of European security."

He blamed Italy partly for failure of the peace plan, referring pointedly to an unfavorable speech by Premier Benito Mussolini at Pontina earlier this week.

With regard to the duties and efficacy of the league, Laval said: "The league theoretically must find its force in universality, but this has never been fully realized and we must all have in mind the circumstances in which Germany and Japan left the community of nations."

"Execution of the Geneva institution's task is as a result much heavier. Certainly this is not a reason for the principle of universality to be contested, but in immediate practice, the league condemns itself to failure if it refuses to take advantage of its possibilities."

Respect for Law

"League action in the present crisis can and has tried difficult duties, but this does not permit drawing conclusions against the principle of collective security. It is a question today of assuring respect for international law by ending the conflict of prejudicial interests of all nations, from which the enemies of peace can profit."

"It is a question of sparing Europe from the prolongation and aggravation of a crisis in which an already unstable balance is in danger of being irremediably compromised."

"We must work effectively without injuring the league principle or weakening the judicial bases of our mutual guarantees in the future."

"If I am told there is lack of accord with the British government, I reply that frank explanations between two great democracies can only fortify that close collaboration which is indispensable for safeguarding peace."

"Nobody can deny, I less than anybody, that Franco-British co-operation is an essential element of the security of Europe. I have not failed in this co-operation. I have not injured the solidarity linking our two countries...I do not hold it against Britain for having turned down the propositions established at Paris in common with the British secretary of state."

GOOD SAMARITAN HIT-RUN VICTIM

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 27.—A police officer died today, victim of a hit-run driver who struck him as he attempted to save a small, bewildered dog from heavy highway traffic.

Thomas Draitcher, 52-year-old Chula Vista officer, was struck Christmas night, when he stopped his car on the Chula Vista-Tijuana highway where a dirty little mongrel crouched in the center of the road, holding up traffic.

When Draitcher stooped to pick him up, a speeding car from Tijuana, swerved out of its lane, sped past the line of cars and knocked Draitcher 40 feet.

The hit-run driver is sought.

Court Notes

George E. Boyer yesterday filed suit in superior court against Alfred M. Lewis, Inc., and one of the firm's truck drivers, Ed Stoner, asking $2281 damages in connection with a traffic accident November 4 on 101 highway four miles southeast of Santa Ana.

The Bank of America was plaintiff today in a superior court suit against Dr. Montrose Lestrangle, asking judgment for $7894.16, alleged to be due on a note, together with interest and $308 attorney fees.

Desertion and non-support was charged today in a divorce suit filed in superior court by Ruth Aguilar, who alleged that Rudolph Aguilar abandoned her two days after their marriage in Santa Ana, December 2, 1935.

Harold Fore made love to a girl in his wife's presence, Mrs. Martha Fore, the wife charged today in a divorce suit on file in superior court. The couple married in Santa Ana December 19, 1928, and separated June 24, this year.

A petition to probate the will of the late Herman Ulrich, of Santa Ana, who died December 22, leaving a $5000 estate, was filed in superior court today. The will leaves the family home at 1759 Valencia street to the widow, with provision for care of a daughter, Edna. Money legacies were willed to two sons, William and Ernest, a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Deardorff, and a grand-daughter, Ruth E. Johnson; also $180 to the First Evangelical church, of Santa Ana, and the Evangelical church of Mt. Scott, Oregon.

Mrs. Gladys A. Mann has brought suit in superior court for divorce from Howard D. Mann, on grounds of alleged cruelty. The couple wed in Long Beach October 29, 1932, and separated at Newport Beach last August 31.

watchman, whose patrol includes the neighborhood of the actress' seaside cafe, told friends he noticed "strange activity" in the garage at the rear during the week-end of Dec. 14-15. Bialock said he would be asked to amplify the statement to the grand jury.

Zasu Pitts Talks

First witness summoned into the hearing room today was Zasu Pitts, said-eyed screen comedian. She was accompanied by her husband, J. L. Woodall, actors' agent.

The actress and her husband each spent less than 15 minutes before the inquisitors. When they emerged they said they denied earlier reports that they had lunched with Miss Todd and a "mystery man," so far identified in the investigation only as "a gentleman from San Francisco." The luncheon, described in earlier reports, was supposed to have taken place on the afternoon of Dec. 14.

Miss Pitts and her husband said they told the grand jurors they had lunched with the dead actress three days earlier but that there was no "gentleman from San Francisco" or any other person in attendance. They said they could shed no light at all on the mystery of her death.

Jewel Carmen, estranged wife of Roland West, Miss Todd's business partner and "best friend," was next called into the hearing room. Miss Carmen has told police she saw Miss Todd driving with a "dark-complexioned" man hours after police believe she died.

W. J. Blanchard, who yesterday bobbed into the case as the latest "mystery man," spoiled the illusion today when he pursued Miss Pitts and her husband into the elevator and stuffed into their hands invitations to attend a spiritualist meeting tomorrow night.

Blanchard, who had boasted that he "knew everything about the Todd case," said he would induce the spirit of the late comedienne to "converse" with her mother, Mrs. Alice Todd, whom he said would be present at the meeting.

SOUTH GRIPPED BY EXTREMELY COLD WEATHER

Snow flurries were predicted in almost every midwestern and eastern state, and as far south as Tennessee, to augment traffic hazards and hardships that have taken approximately 150 lives since Christmas eve. The rare extent and severity of the cold was featured by deaths of two persons in North Carolina, one in Tennessee and one in New Orleans by freezing. The temperature in Asheville, N. C., was 15.

Thousands of men worked through the night in Central Florida orchards to save rich crops from frost. Freezing temperatures extended even into the Everglades. Smudge pots kept palls of smoke drifting through orchards but horticulturists feared heavy damage was inevitable.

River Freezes

The Tennessee river froze solidly at Knoxville, a phenomenon unrecorded since 1895, and an excited above at Atlanta was the lowest temperature in three years. Children of the deep south made a merry event of the first experience of many of them with ice skates and sleds.

Ten degrees above zero in New York, 4-minus in Pittsburgh, 7 in Buffalo, 9 in Philadelphia, and 7 in Baltimore brought suffering to thousands of families. Demands on relief agencies for coal, fuel oil and heavy clothing leaped overnight. While the temperature fell a west wind grew to 40 miles an hour and snow fell again on New York streets just cleared of a previous fall.

The Midwest gained surcease from the blizzard that disrupted its Christmas traffic, but temperatures remained near yesterday's low levels. Chicago, where a seasonal low of 2 below zero was recorded Wednesday, expected 5 below today. Official readings set night temperatures in Minneapolis and St. Paul at 12-minus, Milwaukee 2-minus, Indianapolis 6, Cleveland zero and St. Louis 2.

The far west shared the cold but with less intensity. Typical western thermometer readings were 20 at Denver, 22 at Helena, 18 at Salt Lake City, and 48 at Seattle and San Francisco.

zero recorded at Devil's Lake and North Dakota still was the country's coldest sector, with 22 below 18 below at Bismarck.

REV. JOHN I. TAIT CALLED BY DEATH

The Rev. John I. Tait, 71, retired Baptist minister and one of the operators of the Wedding Chapel, 2115 North Main street, died suddenly yesterday at the chapel where he made his home. A heart ailment of long standing is said to have caused his death.

Funeral services, which will be held in the Winbigger Mortuary chapel, have not yet been arranged and will be announced later.

The Rev. Mr. Tait, who was born in Joliet, Ill., had lived in California for the past five years. He came to Santa Ana five months ago when he became associated with Earl C. Bloss in operation of the Wedding Chapel.

For a number of years he was pastor of a Baptist church in Memphis, Tenn. Later he established the Community Appeal, a newspaper in Memphis, which he edited for some time. Moving to Los Angeles five years ago he established the Universal Christian church there and was pastor of the church until he moved to Santa Ana.

In addition to his widow, Mrs. Minnette C. Tait, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Jessie M. Buoy, of Portland, Ore.; a sister, Mrs. Bertha Tait Button, of Los Angeles, and one brother, Arthur B. Tait, of San Diego.

SCHEDULE INQUESTS IN TWO FATALITIES

Inquest into death of Frank Garrity, 50-year-old transient, who died Tuesday night, following an accident in which he struck his head on the pavement when he fell off the running board of a car in Anaheim as he was being arrested by Chief James S. Bouldin of the Anaheim police department, is scheduled for tomorrow morning at Backs, Terry and Campbell Funeral home, Anaheim.

Inquest into the death of Mrs. Ecclesiastes Basabe, 46, Fullerton woman killed in an automobile accident Monday, is being held this afternoon at McAlulay and Suters Funeral home, Fullerton. Because witnesses are not yet available, inquest into the death of Fidei Linerez of Whittier, killed at Dana Point, Tuesday, when his arm was severed by a passing motorist, has been postponed indefinitely.

Pola Says She'll Wed Rich Britor

Emphatically stating she'll wed "no more Midwinters," Pola Negri reveals that before Christmas she will marry a famed British statesman, enormously wealthy, "10 years her elder and tremendously intellectual."

ROOSEVELT'S STRENGTH TO BE GIVEN TEST

House leaders also expect an early test of strength on the Townsend Old Age Pension plan, although they are not as worried about the strength of this bloc. A petition to force a vote on a modified form of the Townsend plan has but 47 names.

Townsend and Frazier-Lemke bill supporters are expected to caucus on January 3 or 4 in an effort to establish an effective coalition working for both bills. Lemke believes that only through the currency expansion features of his program could purchasing power be increased sufficient to raise transaction tax revenue amounting to enough to pay Townsend old age pensions.

COURT ORDERS MEN TO MAKE PAYMENTS

Two men appeared before Judge Kenneth Morrison today on complaint they failed to support minor, children, and were given one year suspended sentences after they agreed to furnish regular provision for their families.

Earl Crawley, aqueduct worker from Earp, who was not arrested, appeared after he heard he was wanted, according to filed reports. William Corbett, San Diego, who was charged with violating his probation order by not supporting his child, was ordered to pay $92 owing and $15 per month regularly. Crawley must pay $25 monthly for support of his children.

U. S. SHIPMENTS OF GAS TO WAR ZONE INCREASE

net to the war zone increased 1700 per cent, from 68 barrels in October to 1117 in November. Lubricating oil shipped to Italy, however, declined from 61,700 barrels to 43,029. But gas oil, usable as industrial and naval fuel oil was exported to Italy to the extent of 58,214 barrels in November, compared to 22,822 in October.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye, chairman of the munitions committee and leader of the neutrality program, characterized the figures as "startling."

"They show the need for strict control," he said.

The state department action regarding chromium was in reply to an inquiry from High Commissioner Frank Murphy at Manila. The department advised the Philippine government that the export of this "essential war material" in such abnormal quantities as would make it appear that the material was for war purposes was "contrary to the expressed policy of this government."

The inquiry regarding the American government's policy in the matter was made by Murphy following receipt of large orders for chromium from Italy.

The department advised Murphy that it would appear from his telegram that the proposed export of chromium would constitute "the export in abnormal quantities of that essential war material."

At the instruction of County Auditor W. T. Lambert, Treasurer T. E. Stephenson has placed the protested payments in an unapportioned fund, where it will remain for the six-months period, ending next June 5, after which, if not recovered by court action it will be distributed to the political subdivisions for which it was collected.

The corporations allege unconstitutionality of the tax on the ground that the state board of equalization arbitrarily raised the evaluations of property without giving the taxpayer a chance to protest. It was also claimed that the increase was out of line with the assessments upon adjacent property.

The Southern California Edison Company's protest involves nearly half of the entire amount, or $109,541.30. The Southern California Telephone Company paid $62,297.13 under protest; the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, which has a plant in Seal Beach, paid $41,343.43.

Other tax payments made under protest follow: Petroleum Securities Company $5137.03; Associated Telephone Company $3620.65; Industrial Fuel Supply Company $1856.08; Pacific Electric Company $1441.85; Standard Oil Company of California $715.44; Union Tank Car Company $50.76.

TWO GIVEN FINES BY JUDGE MITCHELL

Russell H. Johnson, 1902 South Ross, paid $50 of a $150 fine yesterday in City Judge J. G. Mitchell's court, following his arrest December 20 at First and Grand, for driving while intoxicated. Johnson was permitted to pay the remainder at rate of $15 per month. He was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Ed Lentz, who found him "driving all over the road," in a heavy car.

Frank Camillo, 630 Twentieth street, San Pedro, paid $15 for speeding, after his arrest by Officer Lentz on Fourth street, near Baker. Camillo was charged with doing 45 miles per hour in a 15-mile zone.

James Murray, arrested for vagrancy, after complaint was entered by a local woman that he had been "ugly" when he appeared at her home for assistance, was given a 10-day suspended sentence and ordered to leave Santa Ana.

ETHIOPIANS, IN RAID, CUT OFF ITALIAN POSTS on the main line of Italian communication to bases in the rear.

The posts, in the mountainous Tembien region, were surprised by an Ethiopian raiding party of considerable force, the communiqué said. Dedjasmach, Hallu Kebede, one of the officers under Ras Imaru on that sector, commanded.

Hallu Kebede, the communiqué asserted, attacked the Italians and put the garrisons to flight. The Italians left rifles and much ammunition, it was said.

There was speculation here whether the Ethiopians intended to try to hold their captured positions.

LACK OF FUNDS STOPS WORK ON PARK PROJECT

The Orange county unit of the Works Progress administration project to develop a parkway along Santiago creek was halted last night because of temporary lack of funds. About 290 workers on the project were not on the job today until the matter is straightened out.

County WPA Manager Dan Mulhaddon said this afternoon that he had no knowledge of the cutting of the project fund until last night. He believes the slip he received from district WPA officers saying there was no money left on the project fund to be a mistake. He had not been able to straighten out the matter by this afternoon, although he made a trip to San Diego and sent two telegrams.

Mulhaddon requested district WPA officials to set up the $24,000 provided for the project so the work can be continued at once. Around $5000 has been spent on the project, he said.

Because no similar action has been taken on any other project Mulhaddon thinks the matter is an error which can be straightened out so that work can be continued on the park project.

The county unit of the project is a part of a three-way project along Santiago creek, the city of Santa Ana and city of Orange operating other units of the project.

In an attempt to cut permanently the Makale-Tembien road. It was thought more likely they would continue their strategy of quick attacks at various points along the road, hoping to demoralize Italian communications. The Ethiopians probably would be unable to hold the positions long, and would be abandoning their greatest asset—the initiative for sudden attack on isolated outposts.

It was reported unofficially that an Italian airplane crashed near Makale yesterday.

11 INJURED IN TWO ACCIDENTS IN S. A. CANYON

Eleven persons were injured severely but not fatally, in two Santa Ana canyon automobile accidents last night, according to investigation of State Traffic Officers Horace Inge and D. O. Adams.

In the first accident, investigated by Officer Adams, Ralph Garcia, 23, Los Angeles youth, lost control of the car he was driving, on a curve one-half mile above Knight's service station, and went into the ditch. He suffered cuts and bruises. His companions were Orville Stout, 23, Los Angeles, injured shoulder and cuts about the head; Lloyd Rampsy, 28, Long Beach, injured shoulder, cuts and bruises, and William Fullen, 24, Long Beach, who suffered a fractured rib and finger and scalp wounds. Schmidt, of 912 Victoria avenue, Corona, cuts and severe bruises.

The McEvans and Hallidays, in one car, were riding in an Arizona car and hail from Stanford, Ariz. According to investigation by Officer Inge, it is believed the Schmidt car skidded on the wet pavement and locked left front wheels with the McEvans car. The accident occurred at the edge of the Yorba road bridge. All of the victims were taken to Placentia for treatment.

Dixieland's Dixie Lands Success in Hollywood

You might pardon her southern accent, but you can't overlook that disturbing figure as Dixie Dunbar, vivacious Atlanta, relaxes pensively during the task of carving a film career. Still in her teens, and with Broadway success behind her, Dixie's rapidly becoming a film star of the first magnitude. Because she nearly stole the picture in a dancing and dramatic role in an upcoming production, Dixie's option has been taken up and her film success seems certain.

FIVE PAINFULLY INJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE

Five persons were painfully injured in a collision of cars at Myrtle and Flower streets at 4:40 p. m. yesterday, with four recuperating at their homes today and the other at Orange county hospital.

Mary Leonardo, 31, of 951 West Bleishop street, was treated at the hospital for an injured back. Others reported injured and given medical treatment included Cecelia Leonardo, 951 West Bleishop, side and leg cut and bruised; Theresa Allen, 1002 West Bleishop, shoulder and arm cut and bruised; Rosemary Sittion, 1033 West Bleishop, cuts about the head, and Tefe Ferraro, 758 East 74th street, Los Angeles, shoulder cuts.

The cars were driven by Frank Deiro, 16, of 822 East Eighty-seventh place, Los Angeles and Mrs. Barbara Allen of 1006 West Myrtle street, according to reports. Deiro was uninjured. Mrs. Allen was treated at the office of Drs. John and Waldo Wehrly for cuts and bruises.

According to Assistant Chief of Police Harry Pink and Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford, who investigated the crash, most of those injured were in the Deiro car.

Winbiger's and Harrell and Brown's ambulances responded to the call for assistance. It was believed the accident resulted because of the "blind corner" at the Myrtle-Flower intersection.

COMPARISON SHOWS FEWER ARRESTED

In a comparative police report, prepared today by Desk Sergeant J. F. McWilliams, it was revealed that local police officers have been just as busy in December this year—"almost"—as in December, 1934.

The comparative report shows that 61 persons were arrested last year in December, to date, and 55 this year, to date; that 46 petty thefts, burglaries, robberies and auto thefts were investigated to December 27, in 1934, and 41 up to today, this year, and that five vagrancy cases were handled last year to date, as against 7 this year, in December.

PARTNER NAMED IN COURT ACTION

Earl Sizle, of Anaheim, who claims that his former partner in the Golden Citrus Products company, Kenneth A. Murphy, has refused to pay him royalties upon a machine invented by Sizle, designed to remove pulp from citrus peel, today had filed suit in superior court against Murphy, asking title to the machine, or a "binding declaration" of rights and duties of the two men under an asserted written agreement between them.

Sizle's complaint, filed through Attorneys McFadden and Holden, of Anaheim, states that under a 10-year agreement, Murphy was given exclusive use of the machine, and that Sizle was to be paid a royalty of 14-cent per pound of processed product. Sizle was to service the machines used, and guaranteed that 75 per cent of the product would be salable as first class, so far as it was affected by the machine.

Murphy has processed 23,000 pounds of peel, but has not paid the agreed royalty to Sizle, the latter asserts.

The J. C. Horton Furniture company had under construction today a $450 loading shed behind its place of business, 517 North Main street. Building permit was issued yesterday by Sam Preble, building inspector.

The ten favorites of the previous year were Will Rogers, Clark Gable, Janet Gaynor, Wallace Beery, Mae West, Joan Crawford, Bing Crosby, Shirley Temple, Marie Dressler and Norma Shearer.

ARRESTS MADE FOR THEFT OF WALNUT MEATS

Arrested for the theft of $150 worth of Grade A walnut meats from the C. G. White Walnut Packing house, on East Fourth street at the Santa Fe tracks, Aurelio Munoz, 21, of 1006 Logan street, Santa Ana, was in county jail today awaiting arraignment on a burglary charge, and his 15-year-old boy companion in the theft was awaiting action by juvenile authorities.

The man and youth on Christmas day, climbed to the roof of the packing house, removed a skylight window and screen, stole the walnuts and renailed the window and screen into place before leaving with the loot, according to Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford, who investigated the burglary and, with Assistant Chief Harry Pink, made the arrests.

Apprehended, Munoz admitted he sold the walnuts in Los Angeles yesterday for $39. The capture was made after the man was identified by packing house workers who saw him and the youth carrying the walnuts away from the building.

LIGHT SHOWERS ADD LITTLE TO GAUGES

Spotty rainfall, insufficient to leave more than a trace in the majority of the rain gauges of the county, fell early this morning, bringing hope of heavier precipitation within the next 24 hours.

In Santa Ana there was only a trace of precipitation in official gauges and the same was true in Fullerton and Orange. At Anaheim .03 of an inch was recorded, and Newport Beach also received .02 of an inch.

The heaviest rainfall was in the Huntington Beach, Talber and Tustin districts. Gauges in each of these communities registered .03 of an inch. At Garden Grove and Yorba Linda, .03 of an inch was recorded.

Weather forecasts for the next 24 hours are showers today and tonight with fair weather predicted for tomorrow.

TRIP OF RUNAWAY CHILD IS HALTED

A 10-year-old girl, who admitted she didn't like being scolded, was back home again today in Santa Ana, after packing a black leather overnight bag with clothes yesterday and departing.

She left by way of a nearby orange grove, but was discovered a few minutes later by Motorcycle Officer A. B. Hershey, who returned her to her father, Officer Hershey interrupted the girl's departure, at telephone request of an unknown person who called at 2:20 p. m. to report seeing the traveler, lugging the baggage through the grove. The child lives with her father and stepmother here.

Post Commander Expresses Thanks For Assistance

Commander Glenn L. Hendrickson of Ernest Kellogg Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, today expressed appreciation to the several hundred residents of Santa Ana who donated toys which were used by the veterans in distributing Christmas gifts to children of needy families as well as to those who aided in repairing and distributing the gifts.

More than 350 toys were given out this Christmas, it was said. This year most of the toys were ones which were donated and then were repaired and repainted to look like new. Part of the toys, however, were manufactured by the veterans. This is the second year the veterans have carried on this work.

Hendrickson also expressed thanks to The Register and radio station KREG for assisting the movement.

BICYCLE STOLEN

A. O. Park of First street and Tustin avenue, Route 1, Santa Ana, reported to city police today that his bicycle was stolen yesterday from its place behind a bicycle shop at 312 North Broadway. Park had left the bicycle to be repaired, he said.

Police News

D. E. Lyons of Corona, who owns a home here at 1918 South Parton, yesterday reported thieves had broken into his Santa Ana home, through a bathroom window last November 22—and stolen 25 feet of garden hose and a fountain pen. He asked city police to watch his home here in his absence and they agreed to accommodate him.

PROBATION IS REQUESTED BY BRICK BURGLAR

Roy Page, CCC member of Camp Whitewater, near Banning, who threw a brick into the Lorraine jewelry store in Santa Ana December 21, to get his girl a Christmas present of two watches, today applied for probation when he appeared on a burglary charge before Superior Judge G. K. Soavel, who set the hearing for January 3.

Captain Joseph Federbush, in charge of the camp, who appeared as counsel for Page, under War Department regulations, explained that Page had an excellent record, but apparently was unaware of his client's privilege to ask for probation.

Accordingly Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis made the suggestion to the court, "in the interest of justice to the defendant," that Page might wish to apply for probation. The defense took advantage of the suggestion.

Frank Hoffner, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old girl, was denied probation by Judge Soavel, who sentenced him to six months in the county jail.

RECOVER LOOT. ARREST TWO IN BURGLARY CASE

A Tustin man and woman, wanted for a series of burglaries in Long Beach in which it is charged they took an estimated $4000 or $5000 worth of clothing, silverware, radios and other furniture, hid the loot in Tustin and sold it piecemeal in San Bernardino, were captured last night after a week of investigation by Deputy Sheriffs D. F. McKelvey and James Workman, and Long Beach and San Bernardino officers, ex-convict from Folsom, and his companion, Helen Barber, whose homes are located opposite one another near the intersection of Nogales street and Newport road, in Tustin, were jailed at Long Beach. Deputies from Sheriff Logan Jackson's office, staked out in the vicinity of the Smith and Barber homes, following the arrest, discovered a locked room in which an estimated $1000 worth of loot was stored. Most of it has been identified by Long Beach victims.

Woman Had Guns
Mrs. Barber, when the two were arrested as they were about to leave Long Beach to return in the direction of Santa Ana, had in her possession two pistols, according to arresting officers.

In returning the loot from the Tustin home it was necessary for Long Beach officers to use a truck, which was loaded down by the stolen property.

According to Deputies McKelvey and Workman, the couple is believed to have stolen practically all of the property in Long Beach, taken it to Tustin and then to San Bernardino. It was through the help of a San Bernardino second hand dealer that officers first were able to get a good "lead" to the Long Beach thefts, generally committed crudely and rapidly as the arrested pair smashed windows to enter the buildings they sought to burglarize.

The second hand dealer, suspecting Mrs. Barber when she appeared at his place of business to sell the stolen goods, took the license number from her car. Officers of the three cities cooperating in locating the car, stopped the couple a few blocks from the Long Beach theater where they had just attended a show. The arrest occurred about 10 p. m.

Just Babes In Toyland

Modern to the last degree are those Dionne quintuplets. Nothing less than streamlined scooters would do for them. Yvonne is down giving a good yo-heave-ho to hers, while bright-eyed Annette lets her little pink tongue stick right out in a gesture that says, "Oh, gee, isn't it fun just to play and play with your Christmas toys!"

New Marion; She Stuck to Diet

You'd never recognize the slender, graceful girl here as the once buxom Marion Talley, but this is a picture of the new Miss Talley, famous opera singer. She stuck to a diet of fruit, vegetables and juices, exercised regularly and took off 25 pounds.

DEATH CLAIMS MAN BURNED IN VAPOR BLAST

Funeral services for Carl Talcott, 34, of 635 North Pomona avenue, Fullerton, who died at Fullerton general hospital last night at 9:30 o'clock, following a gasoline vapor explosion at the Bastanchury "Sunny Hills" ranch a month ago, in which Talcott was severely burned, will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. from the McAulay and Suters, chapel, Fullerton.

Talcott suffered the burns at the ranch when gasoline vapors in the oil house exploded last month. Talcott was a member of Fullerton F. & A. M. No. 339. Fellow Masons will be in charge of services at the graveside in Loma Vista cemetery. Mr. Talcott is survived by his wife, Hattie Talcott, his father, Arthur E. Talcott of Osborn, Kansas and an uncle, E. M. Cooper, of Fullerton.

Coroner Earl Abbey will conduct an inquest into Mr. Talcott's death. The inquest is pending.

HITCH-HIKER HAS CHEERLESS HOLIDAY; MONEY AND CLOTHES STOLEN BY AUTOMOBILISTS

Prospects for a merry Christmas seemed pretty distant Tuesday night for Mike Green, Columbus, Ohio, when he walked into the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

Mike, who was on his way to spend the holidays with friends in Los Angeles had been robbed of his suitcase containing all his money, his clothes and even the address of the friends he intended to visit.

Green told Ralph Smedley, secretary at the Y, that he was hitch-hiking to Los Angeles for the holidays. In New Mexico he was picked up by a couple driving a large car, bearing a Texas license. He traveled with this couple for several days, until Monday night when the car pulled into a service station in San Diego.

While his host was obtaining gasoline, Green said, he walked across the street to mail a letter. When he returned to the service station he found the automobile had departed, leaving him stranded. Green said that possibly the couple thought that he was in the rear seat when they drove away.

During the time he was riding with them Green had said that he planned to spend one night here at the Y. M. C. A. and then make his residence at the Los Angeles headquarters of the organization. He stopped here, he told Smedley, in hope that when the couple learned that they had lost their guest they would stop and leave his suitcase at the Y. M. C. A. It was not there. Smedley offered to keep Green at the Y over the Christmas holiday but the offer was declined. Green did accept sufficient money for his transportation to Los Angeles where he hoped to locate his friends.

HIGHER PRICES PREDICTED FOR AVOCADO CROP

Higher prices for the 1935-36 crop of avocados is predicted by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg commenting on a recent report released in the annual Agricultural Outlook for California published by the Agricultural Extension service.

The prices, according to Wahlberg, are likely to be higher than those received during the past season. Unless there is considerable improvement in the general price level, however, the average returns per pound over the next several years are likely to be as low as the 1934-35 prices.

Preliminary estimates indicate a California avocado crop for 1935-36 of 9,000,000 pounds. The season just past amounted to 18,720,000 pounds or approximately twice the estimated production for this year. The present crop in this state was late and heavy shipments did not start until about the middle of November.

This meant a slack period between the cleanup of the old crop and the beginning of new-crop shipments, which resulted in higher price levels this year than at the beginning of the shipping season in 1934. Damage to the Florida avocado crop, estimated at 50 to 75 per cent also is a factor contributing to the prediction of higher prices for the California crop, according to the report.

Referring to the long time outlook for avocados in California the report says:

From a longer-time point of view the situation is quite different. The trend of production will probably be sharply upward for the next four years. In 1935 total acreage of avocados in California was 12,975. Of this amount 4411 acres, or 34 per cent of the total, was non-bearing. At the present rate of increase the bearing acreage will reach 12,000 within the next four years. In 1927 California had only 630 bearing acres. Each succeeding year shows a substantial increase, and in 1935 there were 8,564 bearing acres.

It is apparent that the avocado industry is faced with a definite problem of widening its distribution and encouraging consumption. Unless this is done, further plantings are only justified under reduced cost conditions.

BUENA PARK POST HOLDS YULE PARTY

BUENA PARK, Dec. 27.—Members of the American Legion post and legion auxiliary and their families gathered for a Christmas party this week at the group headquarters in the Jaynes building. A program of songs, recitations and group singing of Christmas carols preceded the appearance of Santa Claus, who distributed candy favors and small gifts. The prize membership dinner to be given for E. D. Jaynes and his group, originally scheduled for January 3, has been changed to January 17.

Fred Dukes, Buena Park, accompanied by Archie Cookerly and Lucien Proud, of La Habra, attended the recent Riverside county council meeting at Arlington as representatives of this district.

Britain Mourns Great Navy Hero

In every part of Britain's far-flung empire, mourning followed the death of Earl Jellicoe, 75, World War naval hero, after a long illness. He led the British fleet against the Germans in the battle of Jutland, smashed the U-boat offensive, rose to first lord of the admiralty, and later became chief of the naval staff.

EXPECT COUNTY BRANCH MOTOR OFFICE IN 1936

Assurance that the state department of motor vehicles is seriously considering the establishment of a branch office of the department in Santa Ana for Orange county was received here today in a letter to Secretary Howard I. Wood of the Chamber of Commerce from the motor department.

The letter said that Director Ray Ingels has the matter under consideration and that Assemblymen Edward Craig and James Utt from Orange county have presented to him the need for establishing such an office in Orange county.

While no branch office will be established this year, it is believed almost certain that the office will be located in this county next year.

The letter received by the Chamber of Commerce came following a formal request made by the chamber December 9, backed by action of other groups, that such an office be established here.

About three months ago the Chamber of Commerce started informal action looking toward securing the branch office here.

The Movies' Parting Shot at the Quintuplets

Bundled to the ears in the snowy weather of Callander, movie cameramen made this "parting shot" as the Dionne quintuplets gazed at them from a window of the Dafeo hospital. Nobody enjoyed more than the babies themselves the assortment of strange equipment the movie men brought with them or the bustle and excitement of becoming movie stars before their second birthday.

SANTA ANANS HURT IN TRAFFIC CRASH

Word was received here today that Mrs. Ida Morrison, 615 North Ross street, her daughter, Evelyn Morrison, and son, Loftus "Spud" Morrison, are in the San Joaquin hospital, Bakersfield. The trio, it was said, was seriously injured in an automobile crash yesterday.

According to meager reports the trio was returning to Santa Ana after spending the Christmas vacation with another daughter of Mrs. Morrison's in King City.

At Oxnard, on the Golden Gate highway, a few miles south of Bakersfield, the car, driven by Evelyn Morrison, was involved in a crash with another automobile driven by Mrs. Anna Wachop, 1519 South Dodgins avenue, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Wachop and Mrs. Mary Jones, a passenger in the Wachop car, also were injured and taken to the San Joaquin hospital.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

— News Behind the News —

BY PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—It was not apparent on the surface of the recent TVA arguments before the Supreme court, but the New Deal power program was jockeyed farther back into an embarrassing technical position.

To an outsider it may be amazing, but government counsel had to concede that all the federal "yardstick" power projects are unconstitutional, as such. Both Solicitor Read and Special Counsel O'Brien admitted the projects must be for the purpose of navigation, national defense or flood control, else they are illegal. The development of power can be only incidental.

This puts the shoe on the opposite foot. Messrs. Roosevelt, Norris and Congress have been bearing down on the other one publicly. Their statements have placed greatest weight on the power angle, with incidental pressure, if any, upon navigation, national defense and flood control.

LOTTION

This misfit of the right foot in the left shoe and vice versa may not cause much legal toe torture as far as the TVA is concerned, but the New Deal lawyers are wondering what they will say when some of the other federal projects come before the court.

In the TVA case, the government was able to show that Muscle Shoals was built during the war as a national defense nitrate project, which was, at least, an argument for TVA.

But TVA is the only one of the various projects started on that ground.

TACT

A feminine federal official who recently visited Kansas will not be sent out there again next year as a campaign speaker. It was not so much what she said in her speech, but her "off the record" remarks, that slayed, or at least bruised, the local newspaper editors.

A girl student of journalism, interviewing the F. F. O. asked about her daughter and quoted her as replying: "My daughter is none of your business. Because I am before the public is no reason she should be."

A teachers' college dean gave a luncheon and asked what the F. F. O. thought about home economics. The published reply was: "A girl's mother should be able to teach her the difference between hand-made and machine-made lace without a four-year course in college." Which was hardly what the host expected.

But the bonnet mot of all was when the F. F. O. turned to a group of Kansas ladies and asked: "Who is your governor?"

SPEAKING LESSON

It probably is not true, but a good story anyway—the one about the eminent public speaker who improved his style in an effective way.

He really did not know why he failed to drive his points home before an audience. A friend decided to show him. It was arranged for the speaker to deliver a speech exactly as he wanted to, in his own style, but privately into a recording device. Then the record was run off on an amplifier, which let the speaker know how bad it sounded. Not only that, but his friendly tutor was thus enabled to point out in detail each error as it developed.

The idea will be broadcast in hopes that some of the current crop of radio barkers will follow suit, although it would be cruel punishment for some of them to have to listen to their own speeches.

RECIPE

Use in Kansas, a new recipe was developed for a London cocktail. Ingredients: 2 parts Coolidge, 1 part Hoover, 1 part F. D. Roosevelt, 1 part Borah, 3 parts London.

Instructions: Add a dash of soil. Shake well. Strain out the taxes. It sounds as if Governor Landon must have employed a publicity man after all.

CLEANING UP

Another unnoticed bit of news hidden in the TVA arguments is that TVA Counselor O'Brien is "cleaning up" within that organization. He told the court that the electric home and farm authority had been transferred out of the TVA. That is, the bureau formed to finance sale of appliances to farmers in the TVA area. O'Brien clearly indicated that the movement was of doubtful constitutionality and that he did not approve of it.

Incidentally, also, the unrelated Brothers Morgan of the TVA also have curtailed to some extent their TVA experiments, including chicken raising.

POLITICAL DANCING

The younger Roosevelts gave no dance at the White House this year. The reason for abandoning this fanciest of the home-from-college fettings apparently was that it was getting to be too fancy. That is, colleagues started pulling political wires last Fourth of July to get invitations, etc.

Also, once in bygone days a couple of bottles of beer were served, whereupon a prohibition politician began making speeches about beer kegs rolling around the East room.

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PERKING Income tax sharks brand the upper-middle classmen as the "nervous Nellies" of the depression. The salaried and business men earning from $10,000 to $25,000 a year played pert poker with their chips while they had them.

There were about 100,000 of them. They got rid of their stock holdings.

when the market first bulged in 1934, refusing to hang on till the 1935 "boom." They sold shrewdly, however, netting themselves a neat gain while smaller fellows unloaded at a loss.

Fear made them cautious. They invested heavily in real estate and in government bonds, content with a small but supposedly sure return. They were Henry Morgenthau's best customers. They're supposed to be the ones who are now venturing back into the market—timidly but hopefully.

BRAKES

Federal Reserve Boarders are more excited over banks' excess reserves than they let on, despite their reassuring statements.

They dread the inflationary effect which $2,000,000,000 worth of reserves ($500,000,000 in potential credit) may have if it breaks loose from the vaults. They note a speculative gleam in the public's eyes. Yet they hesitate to apply the brakes of cheap and plentiful money for fear they may nip recovery in the bud. It's the same predicament, partly financial and partly political, that the board faced in 1929. Nobody likes the role of Jonah.

But the board has quietly taken steps to intervene swiftly. It is understood that the open market committee empowered its chairman, George Harrison of the New York Reserve Bank, to reduce reserves by dumping government securities on the market. That makes him the Paul Revere of 1935-36.

NIGHTMARE

Never before have so many members of Congress flocked to Washington so far in advance of the opening of a session. They admit they have hurried back to escape from constituents, who got in their hair and their soup while at home.

"They even got to me at night," says a Texas member. "Once there were several thousands who marched into my room, with various types of hats and shoes. They pinched my ears, stuck their fingers in my eyes and poked hot, sizzling irons into my stomach."

"Dreaming about them at night was almost as bad as having to see them in the daytime. Anyhow, I had to come back to Washington to get rid of that nightmare."

PREPARED

Few people realize that the U. S. army and navy are quietly retraining their largest proportions in peace-time history. What his friends call FDR's "Napoleonic complex" is responsible—and the troubled state of world affairs.

He has obtained appropriations which will build the fleet to treaty size. He will increase it immediately if, as expected, the naval conference at London collapses. But it is the army which is unobtrusively expanding as never before in time of peace.

It will number 165,000 men by next July. There are about 200,000 veteran soldiers in the National Guard and 20,000 officers in the reserve. About 600,000 CCC-ers have received semi-military training, even though officials shush-shush that phase of the tree-cutting experiment. That makes a potential army of almost 1,000,000 men, not counting about 1,000,000 war veterans still young enough for active service.

FRYING

Doctor Francis Townsend practices what he preaches.

Despite the millions contributed to his treasury, the author of the $200-a-month pension plan allots himself only that amount a month (and expenses) for his organization and inspirational services. He lives simply, almost drably, when he visits the office in Washington.

But several Senators suspect that some of his aides don't exercise the same self-restraint. They may ask for an investigation of the movement's activities and finances, as they often do when people become politically troublesome. That's the way they have handled drys, wets, bankers and other lobbying groups in the past. It's an easy way out.

ORIENT

Despite diplomatic tut-tutting, Key Pittman expressed a widely held but unexpressed view that the United States and Japan must clash sooner or later. Army and navy officials who have done a spell in the Orient agree with him completely. So do many Congressional junketeers back from the Philippines.

It is no secret at Washington that when Mussolini has been put in his place, the League, Great Britain and the United States will concentrate on Far Eastern affairs. Preliminary pourparlers point directly to a worldwide protest and probable application of sanctions against Tokyo's invasion of China. Italy is only a test case—a guinea pig in the international laboratory.

Although Japan has stored enough raw materials to last a year at least, she would be peculiarly vulnerable to sanctions. Her lines are extended and distended militarily and financially. All the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee did was to spill the beans prematurely.

NOTES

Increasing traffic congestion stirs a demand for a subway in Washington. . . . Underground garages are multiplying. . . . Restrictions on bus loads and better safety appliances are forthcoming from the Motor Division of ICC. . . . SPEAKER TELLS CONDITIONS IN MEXICO TODAY

ORANGE, Dec. 27.—Walter F. Taylor, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Mexico for many years, was the speaker at the meeting of the Rotary club Thursday, when he spoke on the subject of "Mexico," giving social, economic and political views of the country gained from intimate experience there.

Mexico, the speaker stated, is a country of great contrasts, a curious combination of the old and the new. He told of the pyramids, one of which is four times larger than the largest in Egypt and which is so old that it probably was built before the lava flowed from volcanoes in Mexico, as lava is found over its base. Hundreds of buildings date from the early 1500's, he said.

The modern note in Mexico, Taylor named as the present methods of education and a very keen interest in athletics. He stated that basketball is now the national sport. Introduced in the country in 1903, it has spread into the most remote and primitive villages, he stated.

The greatest need of Mexico, said Taylor, is that of communication as at the present time, owing to the topography of the country and the lack of highways, states are now separated in time by weeks. The airplane comes into its own in Mexico, said the speaker, in this way bridging the difficult ways across the high mountains.

The government is developing great tracts of land by irrigation projects and land formerly held by small groups is being redistributed to the people, he said.

A planning commission in Mexico City, said the speaker, is headed by a young Mexican graduate of Columbia university, who is planning wider streets to accommodate traffic in spite of the fact that walls of buildings three and more feet thick must be removed in the widening process.

The rural school is now the center of rural life and the teacher has taken the place of the political leader in village life, said Taylor. In the past few years 6000 rural schools have been opened and plans are being made to open 12,000 more. The Mexican people are attempting to absorb the Indians of the country in a program of social progress, he stated.

Ben Brook was program chairman and Dr. R. B. McAulay presided. E. M. Chapman and John Adams gave reports of the service club Christmas party for children.

Laguna Beach Building Work Shows Big Increase

PERMITS FOR YEAR TO DATE OVER $400,000

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 27.—Building permits issued this year to date, are approximately double the valuation of permits issued during the entire year of 1934, according to Building Inspector Floyd Case.

The total valuation for permits issued to date is $400,287 as compared to $204,706 for the entire year of 1934. With one more week to go, and with several projects planned for starting before January 1, Case said that this year's record will be equalled only by the mark established in 1930, when permits represented a valuation of more than half a million dollars.

Case said today that approximately half the total valuation for the year represents new homes either built or under construction. Permits for 92 homes have been issued during the year and these permits represent $199,537 in valuation, he said. There is but one year in the past five that has exceeded that record for home building.

In 1931, according to records kept by Case, home building during the year involved expenditure of $316,743 on 37 structures.

In this year's building records the interesting feature is the steady month-by-month gain and "unseasonal" gains made in the autumn.

Figures released by Case do not include Emerald Bay, adjoining this city on the north, nor South Laguna Beach. Both these communities have had an active year in building.

Of the total of 251 permits issued during the year to date, Case said, 17 of them were for new business structures, representing a valuation of $82,515.

SHERIFF'S SUB-STATION MAY BE SOUGHT FOR COSTA MESA

COSTA MESA, Dec. 27.—Possibility of establishment of a sheriff's sub-station, the first in Orange county, for this community will be the subject for discussion January 13, when directors of the Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce meet.

Plans for discussing the possibility of securing more police protection for an area were received today by Harold K. Grauel, president of the Chamber of Commerce. Grauel said that no definite step has been taken thus far toward obtaining such a substation. Before the directors' meeting Grauel expects to confer with Sheriff Logan Jackson regarding the plan and particularly the cost of such protection.

The community, according to Grauel, would have to approve the establishment of a special protection district to pay the cost of operating a substation in the community. If the pro-rata tax is not too high, it is probable that the proposal will be placed before voters of the district at an early date.

Grauel said today that while Costa Mesa is not yet ready for incorporation there is "a serious need for more police protection."

Other new officers are Mrs. C. Bland, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Robinson, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Crumrine, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Burton Heid, treasurer. Mrs. O. E. Pike is the retiring president.

GRID PROSPECT GOT DRINKS MIXED IN TEST

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The World-Telegram all-scholastic dinner is one of the finest parties pitched in New York.

It has a definite purpose, with the 22 best gridiron players in the five boroughs meeting All-American men who have stood up as such in life and getting personal messages from the former top liners, in addition to gold football, sweaters, and certificates.

Old-timers got as big a bang out of the recent show as did the youngsters, who were given much sound advice and heard many amusing stories.

I liked Eddie Tryon's definition of a coach: "A man who does most of his talking on Saturday afternoons and to himself."

Tryon, running star of Colgate in 1925, really was a Johnny-Come-Lately on the date, where there were All-American men who dated back to 1907.

N. M. (Pie) Way, Yale's renowned tackle of 1916, who later pitched for the New York Giants, gave Tom Shevlin's view of football.

"The object of football is to get as crazy as you can and still be sane," Shevlin told the Ellis. "The team that throws the best 60-minute fit wins."

Clarke W. Tobin, All-American guard of 1907, his sophomore year at Dartmouth, told of an attempt to get a Negro back into the institution.

"We had one professor who never had drunk a man on entrance examinations," said Tobin. "His subject was geology and we steered our candidate into him for a test on that subject."

"Ten questions appeared on the examination paper. The first was, 'What phosphates are found in the vicinity of Hanover?'"

"That was a cinch for the colored lad. He wrote, 'Raspberry phosphate, lemon phosphate, and orange phosphate.'"

"He could think of no suitable answers to the other nine questions, so instead of answering them, filled in his paper with the Lord's Prayer."

"We queried the professor after the examination."

"That is the first man I have flunked at Dartmouth College," he explained, "and I would have passed him had he been right on the Lord's Prayer."

DAYTONA PLANS 'DEATH DERBY'

City Offers $10,000 To Smash Campbell's Record

SUCCESS OF BRITON RESENTED

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27.—Ten thousand dollars being a very serious amount of money, don't be surprised if several very fine necks are snapped here in the next few years in an effort to boost Sir Malcolm Campbell's land speed record of a little better than 300 miles an hour.

The city of Daytona Beach, hurt right down to its last chamber of commerce chamber by Sir Malcolm's success on the salt beds of Utah, is preparing to offer a $10,000 check to the first heavy-footed gent who goes better than 300 m. p. h. on the beach here.

The fact that Campbell spent the best years of his life here trying to make 300, without success, has not shaken the city fathers' belief that their beach is the finest racing strip in the world. They believe the little Englishman was guilty of impatience in deserting the seaside for the salt beds of Utah, a strip which covered a span of seven years, Campbell was guilty of impatience, then so was Job.

As I said, Daytona Beach is preparing to offer $10,000 to the first fellow who breaks Campbell's mark. All that is holding up the proceedings is the little matter of the ten grand. Soon as an angel walks in with that, the check will be written and the offer posted.

It is certain to be greeted with a roar of motors from all over the country, and the beach, all 15 or so miles of it, will be cluttered with dazed, genuine and phony. They'll come with everything—front wheel drive, back wheel drive, side-wheel drive, four-wheel and eight wheel contraptions, oil, steam and gas driven, not to mention elbow, knee and floating rib action.

What is the chance of them breaking Campbell's mark?

I'd say none. In the first place, a price of $10,000 does not warrant the spending of hundreds of thousands on a racing car capable of more than five miles a minute, and that's what a job like Bluebird costs. Campbell actually spent a million or more before his engineers were able to roll the present Bluebird off the line.

In the second place, if the little Englishman wasn't able to make 300 miles an hour here, I don't believe anybody else is going to be able to. He made speed a life study. He had the finest engineers in the world. And he had as much courage as they put inside of one man.

There are citizens here who will tell you that Campbell never drove on the beach while it was at its best. My answer to that is, if you can't get the best beach in as many tries as Campbell made, then there isn't any beach. This isn't meant as a slur on this city's beach. Certainly, it must be the greatest in the world. But it is asking too much of nature to provide 14 miles of absolutely level land.

The old lady often provides nearly that here but always, somewhere in the great sweep of sand, she leaves a rough spot, or a spot stippled with little pools of water. It may be a few hundred yards, this roughness, but for five miles a minute speed only perfection will suffice.

It seems to me that Daytona Beach should be satisfied with having the finest beach for bathing and pleasure car driving in the world, and let somebody else have the speed records. Why don't they give me the $10,000 and let me build a memorial to Campbell for giving the city as much publicity as he did? I have a grand idea for a monument—a bungalow on the beach. I will give to take care of the caretaking duties during the winter months. I'll even set out a flower in the front yard.

CARDS VOW TO BEAT MUSTANGS

OUR TURN TO WIN SWEARS BOBBY GRAYSON

DOTS AND DASHES AND ONE OR TWO FLASHES

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Odds lengthened to 9-5 today favoring Southern Methodist to beat Stanford in their Rose Bowl game at Pasadena, according to latest quotations from Ryan and Company, Wall street commissioners.

For the Sugar Bowl classic at New Orleans the betting is still 2 and 3 and take your pick of Texas Christian or Louisiana State. The same odds prevail for the Orange Bowl game at Miami between Mississippi and Catholic U.

The East is favored at 6-5 over the West for their intersectional encounter at San Francisco.

PASADENA, Dec. 27.—Thirty-eight Stanford football players, each clutching a rabbit's foot charm, vowed today they would "do or die" in the New Year's Day Rose Bowl game against Southern Methodist.

Vow-taking, an accepted custom at the Palo Alto institution, started four years ago when the Cardinal freshmen swore a fearful oath that they would never lose to a University of Southern California team.

For four seasons they knocked off the Trojans with monotonous regularity.

No blood-curdling vows were sworn, however, prior to the Rose Bowl games against Columbia and Alabama and the Stanford took surprise beatings.

With the Mustangs favored to give the Cardinals a bad licking Tuesday.

Gil Kuhn, the handsome Pleasanton who'll captain the Southern California Trojans next year, went to Fullerton High school. He is part Spanish. He pronounces his name as if it were spelled Coon.

The Santa Ana golf champion, Dick Ewert, pronounces it U-Wert.

And Floyd Blower's last name rhymes with flower.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marshall Secrest, of Santa Ana, are two of the eight members of the reception committee appointed to greet Gov. James V. Alfred, of Texas, when his excellency arrives by airplane the morning of December 31 to attend the S. M. U.-Stanford party, John

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Subsidization of college athletes and curb of drinking and rowdiness at football games will be the principal topics for discussion at the National Collegiate Athletic association's two-day meeting, opening today.

The N. C. A. A. also is expected to discuss the recent action of the Southern conference in granting scholarships to athletes. The N. C. A. A. last year declared any subsidization "unjustifiable." The Southeastern group, a member body, may be hauled on the carpet for its action.

In addition to the N. C. A. A., four other intercollegiate groups will meet. They are the American Football Coaches' association, the College Physical Education association, the Track Coaches' association, and the Student Health association.

All delegates to these conventions will meet together in a two-hour session this afternoon. After that, they will split into individual groups and discuss their own problems.

That the N. C. A. A. will give serious attention to the drinking question was virtually assured yesterday when flask-toters and football vandals were played at the annual luncheon of the Sportsman's brotherhood under the general heading of "The Football Spectator Problem."

Speakers warned that these evils tended to encourage lawlessness and mob spirit. Two methods of combat were suggested, an educational campaign and strong-arm tactics.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The biggest sports thrill of 1935 came November 2 when Andy Pliny, Notre Dame halfback, led his mates to victory over Ohio State.

Sixty-eight of the 185 sports editors who participated in the United Press poll acclaimed Pliny's performance as the most thrilling during the year's sports whirl.

During the nearly 15 minutes that Pliny led the charge which brought Notre Dame back from the brink of defeat to victory, sports editors participating in the poll reported that excitement reached such heights that:

"The throng of 50,000 gathered in Ohio State's horseshoe stadium could scarcely believe its eyes as a team beaten 13-0 came back to score 18 points in story-book fashion."

Tommy Bridges' pitching in the sixth and final game of the world series was given second place by 37 contributors. Third place went to "Goose" Goslin's $61,500 single which won the world series for the Tigers. Eighteen writers named Goslin's hit as the big thrill of the year. The Notre Dame team was given fourth place with 13 votes.

James J. Braddock's surprise victory over Max Baer received fifth place with 5 votes.

One of the big surprises of the poll was the fact that Don Budge's tennis victory over Baron von Cramm of Germany in the interzone Davis Cup match was named only once. "Dixie" Howell's great passing in Alabama's Rose Bowl victory over Stanford last New Year's was forgotten by all but two contributors.

Although Southern Methodist was quoted in some quarters as 2 to 1 favorites to defeat Stanford in the south, prevalent odds were 10 to 7, with many wagers going at 10 to 8. Virtually no 2 to 1 odds were going.

Stanford Opens 2-Game Series At Washington

SEATTLE, Dec. 27.—Stanford University hoopers, regarded as one of the strongest quintets in recent basketball history, met University of Washington tonight in the first contest of a two-game series.

The Cardinals arrived last night and worked out in the Washington pavilion to limber up after their train ride. Thus far the Stanford team is undefeated. Washington lost one game.

LA FAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 27.—When his team was trailing by one point with 30 seconds to play, Johnny Kessler, star forward, sank a basket last night to give Purdue a 44 to 43 victory over the touring University of California basketball team.

The game was unusually rough, 18 fouls being called on California and 15 on Purdue. Young, Purdue's high scorer with seven baskets and one free throw, while Luce, Purdue's sophomore forward, was high for the visitors with four baskets and two free throws.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

DOTS AND DASHES AND ONE OR TWO FLASHES

CASTING around for somebody to lead the West's interference against the East in San Francisco's big charity football game New Year's day, Coaches "Babe" Hollingbery and Percy Lacey decided on Larry Lutz, who did so well as a California tackle he made All-America chevrons. Hollingbery and Lacey needed a guard with speed, and contended that Lutz would make a better guard than a tackle. But because they wanted the big Santa Ana youth to have a chance to show his All-America wares against the big shots from the east, the coaches later decided to keep Lutz at the position he knew best. So did a good story.

If Coach Andrew Jackson Cook is still serious in his ambition to arrange a permanent series for Santa Ana Jaycees with either the California or Stanford fresh, it behooves him to get going at once. Riverside is trying for the same program. And so is San Bernardino. San Bernardino has closed for a home-and-home with Phoenix Jaycees. If you haven't received your Rose Bowl ticket by now you are out of luck. The last pasteboards were put in the mails Tuesday.

No blocking blockade is Bill Hawkins, now at Stanford after starring for three years on Saint track and football teams. Hawkins made four A's and one B in his first quarter at Palo Alto. Bill has put on 15 pounds since last year so there is talk that he'll cut out hurdling in favor of discus-shooting this spring.

The quail season is still on and will be until the evening of Dec. 31. A couple of good scattergun shots claim they've been begging their limit not so far from here. Fullerton has a basketball player named Fullerton. Hunt is a cager at Huntington Beach. Orme Hering of Santa Ana was one of the 19 footballers who got letters at Denver U. this year. Ralph Bradley, Santa Ana youth who moved to Redlands for his health, won the tennis championship of Redlands High school last week. He bowled over his opponent in the finals, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Revival of horse racing at Santa Anita calls to mind a natural question: What ever happened to that $200,000 plant, John Berger was going to build (1) at Seal Beach and (2) at Buena Park?

Both teams this year have their quota of stars. Texas Christian's victories have been due to many of the bulls-eye passes from the long arm of Sam Baugh, Darrell Lester of the Horned Frogs is an All-American center.

Triple-threat Abe Mickal, Louisiana State fullback, who directed or scored four touchdowns against Tulane in one quarter this season, will compete with Baugh at passing. Tinsley, Louisiana State's tall end, landed an All-America berth.

The Tigers went through the season with only one game that could be called a "breather." Both offense and defense stiffened with succeeding games and Coach Bernie Moore had two squads on his field, either one of which could be termed "first" string.

Louisiana State this season turned out a team made to order for the late Sen. Huey Long, who ousted one coach and hired Bernie Moore with orders to "win games."

Speakers warned that these evils tended to encourage lawlessness and mob spirit. Two methods of combat were suggested, an educational campaign and strong-arm tactics.

SOUTH'S SUGAR BOWL CONTEST GRID 'NATURAL'

By EDDIE WEST

DOTS AND DASHES AND ONE OR TWO FLASHES

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.—Two of the nation's strongest teams will figure in the second annual New Year's Day Sugar Bowl classic in New Orleans. Many fans view the approaching game between Louisiana State and Texas Christian as a "natural."

They met twice previously without being able to score a touchdown, but the New Year's day meeting possibly will see their greatest teams in action. Louisiana State's 1935 squad is conceded to be the greatest in the history of the school.

Football fans have given their approval of the selection of L.S.U. and T.C.U. in the greatest rush for tickets ever seen here. A sellout of 33,000 tickets at Tulane stadium where the game will be played was assured a few days after the contestants were announced. Plans are underway to accommodate at least 15,000 more.

Texas Selection Surprises

"Although L.S.U. was expected to be the Southern defender at the Sugar Bowl classic after it won the Southern conference championship, the selection of T.C.U. came as a surprise. A northern challenger had been expected, though the Bowl directors have no fixed policy in this regard."

Both teams were beaten once during their regular season. L.S.U. by Rice in the season's opener, and T.C.U. by Southern Methodist.

In the only two games ever played between the Sugar Bowl opponents, a field goal was the biggest single score made.

L.S.U. was defeated at Fort Worth in 1931 when Texas Christian's star tackle, Ben Boswell, booted a field goal. In 1932, when T.C.U. played a return game at Baton Rouge, it was another battle of field goals. Giant Jack Torrance of Louisiana State was set against Boswell and both booted goals to tie the game, 3-3.

Stars on Both Teams

Both teams this year have their quota of stars. Texas Christian's victories have been due to many of the bulls-eye passes from the long arm of Sam Baugh, Darrell Lester of the Horned Frogs is an All-American center.

THE TINYMITES

The Tinymites were tickled pink. Said little Dotty, "Oh, to think that we now have a present from ol' Santa. It's just great!"

"You bet! I wonder what's inside," one of the other Tinies cried. "Let's hurry up and find out, tots, 'cause I can hardly wait."

"Now, how are we to open it?" "Don't let that bother you one bit," said Santa. "I will call Jack Frost. He will remove the top."

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Maybe the apartment is cold because the landlord added fuel to your anger instead of the furnace.

"He's clever at such work, somehow. Look yonder! He is coming, now. He'll sail right in and, till the task is done, he will not stop."

Then Jack Frost shouted, "One side please. I'll open that gift with ease." The Tinies watched his hammer fly. Said Scouty, "I'll help some."

"Oh, no," snapped Jack. "This is my task. Just stand aside, is all I ask. Why, if you swung my hammer, I am sure you'd smash your thumb."

And so they waited patiently while Jack Frost worked away. Said he, "At last the final nail is out. Get ready for your treat!"

The top then was pushed to the ground, and, as the Tinies gathered round, fair Goldy shouted, "It looks like a submarine. How neat!"

"Oh, no! It is a rocket ship," said Santa, "ready for a trip. Right now it looks quite small, but take it out and it will grow."

The Tinies quickly grabbed a hold and gladly did as they were told. The ship began to swell, and Santa cried, "I told you so!"

"When it is twice its present size, you Tinymites will realize that it will hold you all. It really is a wondrous thing."

"You'll wonder, now, what makes it go. Glance at the rear, and you will know." Of course the Tinies did, and there they saw a monstrous spring.

(The Tinies bid Santa goodbye in the next story.)

HARPIST TO BE AT METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY

The rare combination of harp and organ will be heard at the First M. E. church Sunday evening with the appearance of Marjorie Brunton, one of the outstanding harpists of the day, in joint concert with Hugh Newson, composer-organist, in a program of works, most of which are from the pen of Newson.

Referring to the approaching program, an announcement from the church today stated:

"Harp and organ are seldom heard in concert, even though these two instruments are, perhaps, more beautiful than any combination of ensemble except that of symphony orchestra. The unique and seldom-heard color, which these two instruments offer, comes more nearly supplying the full orchestral brilliance than any combination in modern music; the organ with its majesty and breadth of contrasts, together with the ethereal quality of the harp's arpeggio passages, provide a balance that is thoroughly satisfying in its beauty.

"It is true that there are but few harpists who achieve a brilliance and volume sufficient to permit an organist to give reign to the volume and orchestral richness of the full organ. Because of the harp's limitations in the hands of the average performer, these two instruments are usually heard only in subdued music. Miss Brunton has achieved her reputation primarily for the brilliance and surprising volume which she achieves from her harp, permitting a repertoire of music for harp and organ unlimited and, it is said, approaching symphonic color.

"In the program for Sunday night, will be heard several compositions of Newson's which have been familiar to the concert public. Outstanding among these are the 'Processional to Calvary' from his oratorio 'The Crucifixion' and the 'Tragic Poem' transcribed for harp and organ from his original symphonic score.

"Miss Brunton and Mr. Newson have been heard in joint recitals in most of the leading musical centers of America in the past two years. They are in California for a series of broadcasts and concerts in San Francisco and Los Angeles. It is fortunate for local music lovers that they have been secured for this holiday concert. A capacity audience will undoubtedly hear them next Sunday night at 7 o'clock. The program is open to the public."

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By PAUL HARRISON, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 27.—Least intelligible thing about the talkies is the language of the people who make them.

On one of the Warner sets on a recent afternoon I saw a woman visitor stiffen defensively when a man looked in the direction of her and her small child and howled: "Hey, kill that baby! And hit the broad!"

The man was a "gaffer," which is jargon for chief electrician. A nice enough gaffer, too, who probably had a wife and a child of his own and certainly meant no harm to the bystanders.

He was yelling at the "best boy," who is a chief electrician's first assistant, and he wanted one of the baby spotlights extinguished.

By "hit the broad" he meant only that one of the large, rectangular floodlamps be turned on.

Such language may save time and undoubtedly saves a lot of words. Perhaps movie technicians are endeavoring to compensate, in some measure, for the wasted verbiage that flows through other departments of the studios.

Tactful fellows all, they'd much rather order a "juicer" or ordinary electrician, to "cello the 5K" rather than ask him to "put a cellophane screen athwart yonder 5000-kilowatt light."

No Waste Breath

Again, on the Dick Powell-Ruby Keeler set for "Colleen," the gaffer called: "Up high—drop a spider so we can line up these rifles and ashtrays." Translated, the order would have been: "One of you men up on the catwalks—send down a connection socket so we can hook up these 2000-kilowatt flood lamps and the flat, uncovered flood lamps."

There are several more types of lights—barrels, match boxes, juniors, and bimbos. Various screens are used to soften or spread illumination—"scrims" and "double scrims," "olls," "silks" and "glasses." "Goboes" and "centuries" are black screens placed between lights and camera to cut off reflections.

The sound department has fewer puzzling terms. The "mixer" is the man who sits in the sound-proof control room, or coop, and regulates the volume of voices. Extraneous noises on the sound track are called "mike stew."

Recording are amplified through a speaker horn called a "morning glory." Every sound camera is covered by a "blimp," which is a case that insulates it against noise.

Three Minutes, Day's Work
At first thought, it seems a little silly that any picture, running about an hour and 20 minutes in its finished form, should require five or six, and maybe more, weeks for the actual shooting.

I heard George Nicholls, director of "Chatterbox," ask his script girl at the end of a day's work how much had been done. She looked at her stop-watch record and said,

"Three minutes and 11 seconds." He seemed pleased; said he hoped he could do as well on the morrow.

Eight hours' work for a little more than three minutes of okayed "takes" in the projection room is a movie man's idea of a good average. Of course, a good deal more film than that is rejected, yet practically all the eight hours is devoted to preparation—placing the camera, adjusting the lights, and rehearsing the players.

Returns From Citrus In November Best Of Year

MARKET STRONG DESPITE SALES OF LOW GRADES

The November market for Valencia oranges, according to a report to appear in the January number of California Citigraph, continued to be very strong in spite of an increasing proportion of grades lower than Sunkist and Red Ball specifications.

According to the report, the average return on all Valencias sold through the California Fruit Growers' Exchange was well above the return shown for any other month during 1935. As a considerable proportion of the remaining fruit was from late bloom the quality, generally, was not so high as that of fruit harvested earlier in the season but cutting at the packing houses placed on the market fruit that brought a considerable premium over new crop oranges from Florida.

Fruit Situation Changed

The entire citrus fruit situation in California for November was changed from the situation existing in 1934. Last year the Valencias were unusually early in maturing, while the Valencia crop was light and practically all shipped by the first of November.

Contrasted with the situation in 1934 the 1935 Valencia crop was the largest ever produced and shipments continued in heavy volume much later than usual, the November movement being the next greatest ever recorded, according to the Citigraph report.

Lighter Navel Crop

Navel, the report stated, were much lighter than last year and reached maturity several weeks later than in 1934. Accordingly they did not get under way until the later part of November and were lighter than in 10 of the 12 preceding 12 years.

Demand for lemons throughout November was very good, with prices considerably above the average. Due to sizes, early in the month, running quite heavily to small fruit the larger sizes sold at a considerable premium. During the latter half of the month, however, the proportion of the larger fruit going forward showed some increase, and prices on the smaller sizes improved materially. Total sales, while less than during the same period last year when heavy supplies were available, were slightly above a five-year average.

Shipments from the state were in excess of those for the comparable period in four of the past five years, 725 cars going forward as compared with the average November movement during the past five years of 665 cars.

— Political Rumblings —

By PAUL VISSMAN

Just the other day, according to political observers, a new hat came sailing through the air and landed in the ring. It belonged to no one other than Councilman Joe Smith. It seems that there is something about Sacramento that, once you have been there, you always want to go back. Joe, according to rumor, has a yearning to return to the capitol city and wants to go the worst way—in other words he wants to go as assemblyman from this district.

With Sen. Nelson T. Edwards having announced that he would not seek reelection and Speaker Ted Craig, of the Seventy-fifth district, rumored as not planning to seek a new term in office the field is open.

The indications now are that Assemblyman James B. Utt is being groomed to seek the senatorial chair left vacant by Senator Nelson Edwards. Not only is he being groomed, it is said, but he has an excellent chance for election. Jimmy is regular in his party connections and has never run afoul of the G.O.P. machinery in this county. Also he has been a good assemblyman and is considered good senatorial material.

Smith is no amateur in politics and if he does become a candidate for the assembly will blast the ambition of several prospective candidates before they get started. An appointee of the late Gov. James Rolph, Smith served in Sacramento as real estate commissioner for several years. Returning to Santa Ana he was appointed to the city council and, last year, was elected for a new four-year term.

A new name was added to the list of possibilities in the forthcoming congressional race, this week. James L. Davis, the Democratic candidate for congress at the last election, is said to be seriously considering entering the lists again. Davis, who is now assistant district attorney, would make an excellent congressman and is the one man in this district whom all consider worthy of carrying the banner of Democracy.

Congressman Sam L. Collins who was elected on the Republican, Democratic and Commonwealth tickets at the last election, definitely will be a candidate to succeed himself. This time, however, the indications are Sam will be satisfied to make the race on just one ticket—the Republican.

A little bird said, recently, that Sam wants one more term in Congress and then he plans to run for the United States Senate against McAdoo.

Davis' rumored entry into the congressional race makes two possible candidates. The rumor per her movement during the past five years of 665 cars.

sists around town this week that J. Frank Burke, former publisher of The Register will become a candidate. The only thing that stumps the politicians is—what ticket will Burke run on? The Democrats say he will be a Republican candidate and the Republicans say he will carry the Bourbon banner.

Some of the curbstone politicians have it all figured out that Burke could get the Republican nomination if he would make the race "out-liberaling" the liberal elements. That way, they figure, he would cut a large slice of Townsend club votes for himself as well as pile up a following among the Epic. What the voters would do to Burke in the final election is a question that can be answered only on election day.

Rumblings of recall elections aimed at members of the board of supervisors are growing stronger daily.

The most persistent rumor is that voters in the Fifth district, around San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente and right in his home town of Laguna Beach are preparing to circulate a petition for the recall of Supervisor N. E. West. It is also reported that Supervisor W. C. Jerome of the First district is being mentioned as a possible target for recall.

Dissatisfaction with West's representation of his district, it is said, has been expressed for some time in the Fifth district. When he voted against calling the recent water bond election, thereby incurring the enmity of other board members his stock took another slide. Since that time other board members are said to have indicated that Mr. West would be cut out of the pockets as far as any appropriations for improvements in his district were concerned. The voters, it is rumored, are planning to do something about it.

Jerome's difficulty, it is said to have been created through the recent bond election. While there is considerable talk of recalling him, this talk, it is said, originates principally among opponents of the bond proposal who take their politics seriously and stay mad when they get mad.

We shall see.

RANCHERS WILL ATTEND WATER MEET AT DAVIS

Underground water supply and irrigation problems will be discussed at a two-day conference of farmers and engineers to be held January 9 and 10 at the University Farm, Davis, according to an announcement today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg. The conference is being sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and Division of Irrigation Investigations of the University of California.

Wahlberg expects more than a score of ranchers from Orange county to attend the conference as the general lowering of ground water levels in California during the recent series of years of subnormal precipitation has greatly stimulated interest in possible measures of underground water control and in means of reducing irrigation pumping costs.

He also said that the recent decision of the California Supreme court applying the new rule with reference to riparian rights is recognized as having an important bearing on rights to underground waters in the state. This problem will be among others taken up for discussion at the conference.

ENGLAND'S WORST PLANE CRASH

Ice forming on the wings of the three-motored Belgian airliner burdened it so heavily that it crashed into a hillside at 200-miles-an-hour speed near Tatsfield, Surrey, killing 11 persons in England's worst air disaster. The twisted wreckage of the demolished cockpit and cabin in the foreground indicate the terrific force of the impact, which proved fatal to all aboard. In the darkness it is believed the pilot was unable to see the hillside in time to avoid the crash.

MWD TUNNEL TO BE COMPLETED ON JANUARY 2

Excavation of about 275 feet more of rock is all that remains before crews of the Metropolitan Water District complete the 18-mile East Coachella tunnel, it was revealed yesterday by Alvin A. Johnstone, of 913 West Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, chief mechanic at the camp who has been on the job for 21 months.

Basing their calculations on daily progress being made by the crews now working engineers have set January 2 as the day on which the last rock wall will be blasted out and the two tunnel sections joined, Johnstone said.

The holing through will be the culmination of three years of work on the bore, which is located in the Little San Bernardino range, about 150 miles east of Los Angeles and fifteen miles north of Indio. Aqueduct miners are planning a celebration of the holing through. The affair will be held on the night of January 2 at the recreation hall of Berdoo Camp, headquarters of the Coachella Division.

Two Holiday Parties Have Setting in Gilbert Home

Two holiday parties had their setting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Gilbert, 229 South Park street, where a family gathering was held Christmas day and a bridge event took place earlier in the week.

Guests in the home Christmas day were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gilbert, Miss Cora Kurlie, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bassett and Miss Peggy Holloway, all of Santa Ana.

Bridge Party
Members of the teaching faculty at Fremont school where Mrs. Gilbert is principal were the guests at an afternoon party early in the week. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Emma Dietrich and Howard Paul.

Girls' Ebells Enjoy Hospitality of Advisors

Thirty members of Girls' Ebells society enjoyed a holiday party given last night in the clubhouse, where the three advisory board members, Mrs. Emrys D. White, Mrs. John Tessmann and Mrs. C. V. Davis, were joined in entertaining by Mrs. Fred C. Rowland, Ebells society president.

Christmas cookies and ice cream designed with red bells were served to precede other events of the evening. Wassail was served from a bowl wreathed in holly, as Mrs. Tessmann conducted a traditional ceremony. Green boughs, red tapers and silvered tumbledweed added to a festive background for the party. Gifts were exchanged. Mr. Tessmann entertained with an interval of magic. The occasion served as a reunion for the young people, many of whom are home from school for the holidays.

Gay Observance Given December Birthday

Despite the fact that the tenth birthday anniversary of her young daughter, Charlotte, fell on December 22, just in advance of Christmas, Mrs. Roy Shafer gave a very happy individual celebration at an afternoon party in their home, 530 South Ross street.

It was natural to take advantage of the Christmas decorations of the home, and use them as a party background, with red and green as the color motif for all party festivities. Miss Charlotte not only received a birthday gift from each of her guests, but had provided an attractive little gift for each of them in turn.

Various games provided entertainment and were introduced by Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. E. A. V. Thompson, assisted by Miss Marjorie Mize, one of the party guests. Tables arranged for refreshments at the conclusion of the games, were gay with festoons and flowers in the Yule colors, and the birthday cake was topped with a silvered poinsettia and the inscription, "Charlotte, 10 Years Old."

In the merry group were the Misses Barbara Watson, Janice Winbiger, Marjorie Mize, Natalie Nelson, Marilyn Nelson, Doris Mustard, Peggy Ames, Katherine Iverson, Lillian Iverson, Betty Pangie, Phyllis Wetherell and the birthday honoree, Charlotte Shafer.

HAPPY CHRISTMAS MEMORIES SWEETEN DAWN OF NEW YEAR

While the date of Christmas is slowly receding into the past, the spirit is just as bright and glowing as it was Wednesday, and will continue to irradiate the holiday week until the entry of the New Year. Much of this spirit of joy and friendliness finds expression in memories of the gay holiday reunions and dinners, which continue to hold the interest of everyone.

Nonagenarian Is Host
There was no more genial host in all Santa Ana on Christmas Day than J. M. Talcott, 1910 North Main street, who despite the fact of his 94 years, continued his custom of many years' standing by entertaining all members of his family circle at a holiday dinner.

It was in the Doris Kathryn that Mr. Talcott received his guests, and the large table reserved for his party was gay with poinsettias against the background of a beautifully decorated tree. Covers were laid for Mr. Talcott, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Beissel, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. James West, Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Talcott of Anaheim and their son, Jim; Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Witt and sons, Norval and Harold; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Edwards and son Don, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hiltcher and son Roland, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Shoop of San Diego, and baby daughter Joan; Mr. and Mrs. Clair Gillespie, Mr. Lettie Wood of Mannville, N. Y.; Miss Beverly Trickey and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powell of Claremont.

While Christmas greetings and gifts were being enjoyed, Mr. Talcott explained one of his letters as representing what he felt was his most appreciated gift. This was from a friend of many years ago, E. E. Collins of Vermilion, S. Dak., who wrote to express his appreciation to Mr. Talcott for a kindness in Collins' early youth, which he declared was the turning point in his life. For Mr. Talcott, as president of the school board, made it possible for Collins to teach, and he continued in the educational field with great success. Now, at the age of 73, Collins is to don cap and gown and receive his degree, a triumph for which he thanks the Santa Ana friend and benefactor in his appreciated letter.

Panhellenic Members Achieve Brilliant Dance Success

Preceded by various smaller parties and followed by after-dance suppers, last night's presentation of the usual Christmas dance by Panhellenic society, proved one of the most brilliant functions in the history of the scholarship benefit affairs as introduced a number of years ago by the society.

American Legion hall in Orange, chosen as scene of the function, blazed with Christmas stars, following a decorative motif developed by Miss Reva Hawkins and her committee. These stars glittered on trees which graduated in size from the tall first flanking the orchestra platform, to the smaller ones at the extreme length of the hall. These were bathed in blue or red light, colors repeated in the swaying cellophane wreaths above the orchestra, and in the chandeliers.

Receiving Line

Mr. and Mrs. Harry LeBarb and Mr. and Mrs. George Spielman formed the receiving line in the silver decorated lobby. Mrs. LeBarb, president of the hostess society, wore deep blue crepe given a sparkling accept by its chime-stone clips and ornaments repeated by the charming rhinestone and sapphire earrings of her jewelry. A corsage cluster of Taisman roses and gardenias, completed her effective costume. Mrs. Spielman, who has been a capable general chairman for party arrangements, was charming in black crepe with rhinestones, and a clever little cocktail jacket of metal cloth in black and gold.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond were prominent among the patrons and patronesses present. Mrs. Hammond chose white crepe, with a chaplet of gold leaves in her beautiful hair.

Dance music played by Louise Shirley's seven-piece orchestra, was beyond all criticism, and to the melodic rhythms the dancers whirled in a brilliant kaleidoscope of color wrought by the unusually lovely gowns worn by feminine guests. Refreshment was offered at tables where the food punch had been planned under supervision of Mrs. Ernest L. Spencer.

Charming Gowns

Among smart dance frocks noted, was the holly red velvet blouse and long black skirt selected by Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, who wore a spray of gardenias with the striking costume; the ashes of roses taffeta worn by Mrs. Warren Fletcher; the graceful black chiffon velvet of Mrs. Harvey Spears; the striking metal cloth dinner gown of Mrs. Wayne Harrison; the taffeta in holly red worn by Mrs. John Cannon, with its accent of golden flowers in her hair; the silver lame blouse and black skirt worn by Mrs. Harry Welch, with a gardenia corsage.

Eastern Guests

Miss Cecilia Schuler, a teacher from Burke, S. D., who is making a holiday visit in this city, was a guest at the Christmas day dinner with which her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. P. B. Gillespie, entertained in their home, 1417 North Main street. Miss Schuler will conclude her Southern stay next Thursday. Others present in the home Wednesday were Francis Schuler of Alma Center, Wis., who is spending the winter in Southern California; Miss Anna Gillespie and the Misses Mary Elizabeth and Madeline Koutney, Santa Ana.

A Complete Day

Celebrations in the Paul Vissman home, 1327 North Ross street, started early in the morning of Christmas day, when members of the family circle congregated to enjoy hot cakes and coffee and the various dishes that accompany such a breakfast.

The holiday dinner was served at midday to the accompaniment of the colorful decorations of the home. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Vissman, the hosts, their children, Paul Louis, Frankie Hope and Katherine; Mrs. Vissman's mother, Mrs. Emma J. Bull; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Plumb, of Hays, Kans.; Mrs. Inez Wicks and son, Larry, with his friend, Herman Lewis; Mrs. Wicks' little granddaughter, Diane Garoway, of Whittier; Miss Pearl Plumb; and Miss Josephine Bull, Miss Vancha Plumb, who had been expected to complete the family circle, was unable to be present because of illness.

Afternoon and Evening

Dinner in the afternoon and supper in the evening were enjoyed by relatives who assembled in the home of Mrs. Edith MacMillan and son, Lloyd, West First street. Present were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adamson, Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick MacMillan and daughter, Catherine Jeannette, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alford and children, Mary, Jackie and Billie, Compton; Mr. and Mrs. Philip MacLane and daughter, Jean Marie, Mrs. Loy MacLane, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew MacMillan, Inglewood. Their daughters and son, Mrs. Henry Witt and Mrs. Henry Marquart, Orange; Mrs. Will Mauerhan, of Anaheim; Mrs. Herbert Greenwald, and Otto Schroeder, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Howard Pattee, Claremont planned the celebration.

All of this group but Mrs. Greenwald and Mrs. Marquart, who poured tea, were in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder. More than 50 relatives and friends from Los Angeles, Anaheim, Orange, Santa Ana and other Southern lands called at the home between the hours of 2 and 4 o'clock. Quantities of flowers sent in by friends brightened the rooms of the home.

An elaborately decorated wedding cake was served with other dainties, from a table lighted with tapers and further adorned with a centerpiece of blue cellophane straws and silver bells. Granddaughters of the hosts, the Misses Ruth Greenwald, Leola Schroeder and Anna Clare Mauerhan assisted in serving tea.

Many of the friends who called during the afternoon are pioneer residents of this community who have known Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder for many years. The marriage of the Schroeders took place in this city 54 years ago in the W. W. Rohrs home on Santa Clara avenue. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder are former residents of Ohio. December 26, 1885, was the birthday of Mr. Schroeder, in Germany, and of Mrs. Schroeder, in Switzerland.

Among the guests yesterday were the Rev. G. G. Schmid, pastor, and E. Bursi, presiding elder of First Evangelical Lutheran church, in which both birthday celebrants are charter members.

Twelve officers and 11 members were present for the meeting. Plans were made to hold installation of officers January 23 at a regular meeting instead of January 8 as scheduled originally. Mrs. Sarah M. G. Brown will be installing officer.

nue, home from her extended visit with them and with the family of her son, Jay Taylor, of Tulare.

With them also were Mr. and Mrs. Wones' son and daughter, Donald Wones and Mrs. Keith Mutch, the latter down from her home in Portland for a holiday visit. Taking part in the Yule observance with them in Mrs. Taylor's home were her son, Frank Taylor of the home, and his daughters, the Misses Berenice and Eleanor Taylor, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, of El Toro. Mrs. Henry Taylor, with the assistance of her nieces, had a mammoth turkey roasted, and everything in readiness for the Christmas feast.

Mrs. Martin Taylor left for the north late in November, and was joined by the Jay Taylors of Tulare, in spending Thanksgiving in the Wones home, Redwood City.

Holiday Message
Perhaps the pleasantest feature of the Yule celebration in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Swanner, 2112 North Ross street, was the long distance telephone call which Mrs. Swanner and her sister and brother, Miss Josephine Dana and 'Gene Dana of Los Angeles, put through to their mother's home in Perry, Iowa.

It was a happy day in every respect, with the hosts and their two small daughters, Patricia and Cara Lee, presiding at a beautifully appointed table for the Christmas feast. Their guests included in addition to Miss Josephine Dana, a student at Oris Art Institute, Los Angeles, and her brother, 'Gene Dana, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McKenzies of this city.

The telephone call to Mrs. Dana, just at the dinner hour, served to allay uneasiness of her son and daughters, regarding her health. For they were informed that she is recovering nicely from a recent attack of pneumonia.

Gift Enjoyed

Dinner guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Warner, 1516 Wilshire street, had the pleasure of sharing with their hosts, the Christmas programs relayed by the hand, some new radio which was their gift from their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Barnard of Pasadena.

The barnards and their son, Jack, coming down for a wonderful turkey dinner prepared by Mrs. Warner, brought with them some charming house-guests, the Misses Betty Lombard, Margaret Freeman and Jean Freeman. Others in the party were Mrs. Warner's cousin, V. T. Collins, and Croy Quick from Pennsylvania, who are spending the winter here, and Mrs. Nina Staples, Mrs. Warner's sister.

Intimate Group

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leslie Steffensen and sons, James Leslie and Donald Davis, 1015 Lowell street, entertained a little family group Christmas including Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Clay and sons, Horace and John of San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. E. Steffensen, 1015 Olive street, were there for part of the day, spending the remainder of the time in San Diego. Master James Leslie Steffensen, who has been ill, is reported getting along nicely.

Hoy's Entertain

From near and far came close relatives to join in the Christmas reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hoy, 1225 French street. Gift exchange around the Christmas tree took place in the morning, and dinner was served in the afternoon. In the group were the Misses Wilma and Jean Hoy of the home; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Tolley and son, Bill of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Olmstead and daughters, Barbara and Patricia, Glendale; John Hoy, who is with Metropolitan Water division No. 3 near Indio; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Finster and son Ted, and Miss Jean McFadden, Santa Ana. Mrs. Tolley is the former Miss Elizabeth Hoy; Mrs. Olmstead, the former Miss Ada Hoy. John Hoy is remaining for a visit in the family home, planning to return tomorrow to Indio.

Dinner and Music

Entertaining at dinner in James' cafe, Mrs. J. F. Wilson continued her holiday hospitality Wednesday with an afternoon musicale in her home, 833 Riverine avenue, in compliment to her talented niece, Miss Edith McDonald, now of Arcadia.

Mrs. Wilson's dinner guests were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. McDonald of Laguna Beach, their daughters, the Misses Edith and Marjorie McDonald, and Mrs. Marietta Philileo. Miss Marjorie McDonald is a student at Santa Ana Junior college where she will graduate in June. Miss Edith McDonald graduated from Whittier college with high honors, and holds several musical scholarships including one from Etude. She taught at the college following her graduation and is now supervisor of music in the Arcadia schools.

Unexpected Reunion
The recent arrival of Mr. and Mrs. John ("Sky") Dunlap from Salt Lake City, made possible a happy family party Christmas in the Fairhaven avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. U. Holmes Bishop, parents of Mrs. Dunlap, the former Miss Velma Bishop.

The young people were down from Los Angeles, where John Dunlap has been transferred by United Press, and assembled to greet them and to enjoy the delightful holiday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, were the two sons of the home, Gordon and Noble Bishop, and Mr. Dunlap's

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

CHRISTMAS GIFT PLANTS

Day before Christmas! The wood fire burns brightly, the Christmas tree glitters and sparkling, the heated rays of the Christmas gift packages—day before Christmas. Oh, what a lovely day it is!

When you read this, Dear Fellow Flower Lovers, Christmas of 1935 will be gone to take its place among the memories of other happy Christmas Days.

But in the immediate foreground are the Christmas gifts, and perhaps among them a potted plant? A cyclamen? A primula? A Saint Paulia? A bouvardia?

Cyclamen have been favorite Christmas plants for many years and still hold their popularity, being among the most satisfactory, and most pleasing of winter house plants.

You will notice that most florists' plants are in rather heavy soil which retains water, and as proper drainage is very essential to a cyclamen, care should be taken in watering. Do not let your Christmas gift cyclamen become too dry. On the other hand, be careful not to keep it too wet. Do not set the plant in the direct sun.

It is a question as to whether or not it is worth the trouble to try to grow your Christmas cyclamen in a pot for another year. I have set cyclamen in a lightly shaded spot in the garden and had them bloom, a couple more years, not very abundantly.

To keep the bulb in the pot, let the plant grow on for awhile after it ceases flowering, then gradually withhold water, but not to the point of letting the leaves wilt as long as they show life. They will gradually die off entirely, but even then the bulb should not dry out completely. Lay the pot on its side in a darkened spot, and throw a little water over it every few weeks. When life shows in the spring, shake off the old soil and repot in a soil well mixed with sand, leaf mold, and a little ground steer manure. During the growing season—until the plant begins to bloom—give frequent applications of liquid manure.

In the Mediterranean countries the cyclamen grows wild. The hybrids with which we are familiar are from C. persicum, the Persian cyclamen. In California we have a charming wild flower, Dodecatheon, the "Shooting Star," whose dainty blooms plainly show their relationship to the cyclamen.

The Primrose belongs to the same family as the cyclamen, though the connection is not apparent to the layman. And two of the Primulas are much used at Christmas time, P. obconica, with umbels of rosy bloom, and P. malacoides, with smaller, daintier blossoms, sometimes called the "Baby Primrose," and the "Fairy Primrose." These are dependable plants, flowering cheerfully for many months with only a little watering. Both of them are excellent for the garden, too, especially the "Fairy Primrose," an enchanting little thing with stems of silvery-powdered buds rising from tufted rosettes of pretty leaves. It should be planted more liberally for early spring garden bloom. It self-sows generously.

The Saintpaulia is a rather temperamental plant. Many people damp it off in a week, while others bloom it on steadily for two or three years. The name has no apostrophe significance, the plant being called after its discoverer, Baron Walter von Saint Paul.

It comes from Africa, and is often called the "African Violet," a name which seems fitting to its bright blue blossoms, but which I never like to use—the name having an unpleasant association for me from something I once read in connection with the Boer war. It seems the horses killed in battle were allowed to lay where they fell upon the veldt. These poor dead bodies became very numerous, and very—well, anyway, the English soldiers referred to them as "African Violets."

The Saint Paulias resent excessive watering, particularly from the top. The best way is to set the pot in a pan of slightly warmed water, leave until the top soil shows moisture, drain, and do not water again for a few days, unless for some atmospheric reason it is necessary. Or water carefully from the top, using a long-spouted can and avoid wetting the leaves.

Saint Paulias multiply in the pot and may be divided in early spring. Pot in soil with a good mixture of leafmold and peat. The flowers are charming, especially in one of the newer varieties, called "Blue Boy," a deep, rich blue, with bright yellow stamens.

If you received a Bouvardia among your Christmas gifts you will probably want to plant it out in your garden after it has finished blooming. Cut it back severely and plant it in a sunny or slightly shady position (part shade if away from the coast), give it a soil rather light but rich, leaf mold and a little sand mixed with good garden loam, and a light mulch of ground steer manure. During the growing season give ample water and frequent light applications of fertilizer.

If left to themselves the Bouvardias tend to become leggy and woody and give little bloom. They should be cut back severely once or twice a year and kept pinched in to a neat and bushy shape. In this way they will have several seasons of bloom, and make attractive small shrubs for the garden.

Bouvardias were at one time extremely popular as florists' flowers. For years they have scarcely been heard of, but recently have been coming into favor; the white-flowered especially, because of the delicate purity of its flower and the delicious fragrance is much used in decoration, in bouquets and corsages. A pink, a red, and a soft coral make pleasing shrubs, but lack the fragrance of the white-flowered.

All the Bouvardias offered today are florists' hybrids, but there are a number of interesting species of the plant, chiefly found in Mexico and Central America, a few in Arizona and Texas. The flowers are usually white or shades of red, though one Mexican species has bright yellow blossoms.

The Bouvardias have a certain elegance in their smooth leaves and delicately textured flowers, reminiscent of the days when they were favorites at the Court of Louis XIII, where they were named for a Dr. Bouvard, physician to the King and Superintendent of the Royal Gardens.

As a special day-before-Christmas treat, I have permitted myself the pleasure of putting up the little Thalictrum seedlings, seed of which were gathered in my garden and planted—according to the record in our garden column—just two months ago. A brief two months it seems, and they are such pretty little things, their characteristic meadow-rue foliage now appearing above the two baby leaves.

They came up so thickly I am reminded of a pet hen my father once set on fourteen eggs. In due time she "came-off" the nest with fifteen perfect little chicks, causing much excitement and speculation. I believe the consensus of opinion was that she had laid another egg after having taken up the business of "setting."

I am unable to account for the phenomena with my thalictrum seedlings, but I could almost swear there are more little plants than there were seeds. For certain and swift results from seed sowing, I commend to you thalictrum seeds fresh gathered from your own plants.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

MIXING BOWL

A rich heavy dinner followed by a rich heavy dessert might be the proper diet for the proverbial stalled ox, but not for guests if you have even a suspicion of a conscience.

A favorite dessert in many houses is crackers and potted cheese with black coffee, but there are some people who do not care for a cheese dessert, so, you might serve this delicate bit of fluff:

Marshmallow Coffee Whip
1/2 pound marshmallows
1/2 cup very strong hot coffee
1 cup heavy cream whipped with 2 egg whites beaten stiff with 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
6 drops almond extract
Pinch of salt
Dissolve the marshmallows in the hot coffee, over hot water. Cool this mixture until it is ready to jelly again, then fold in the whipped cream and egg white, pinch of salt and almond extract. Pile in sherbet glasses and serve with a bit of cake or cookie. By the way, this is one dessert Monday's Honey Cake would match with.

EAT AND GROW SLIM
Luncheon
Salad: 1/2 canned pear filled with 2 Tbsps. cottage cheese mixed with diet mayonnaise
Lettuce garnish and 1/2 cup grated raw apple and raw carrot for a salad wreath
1 slice zwieback with 1/2 teaspoon butter
Pot of tea with skimmed milk

Calory total—250.
Arrange lettuce heart leaves on a big salad plate, grate the apple and carrot and mix with a little diet mayonnaise (made with mineral oil, y'know). Arrange it on the lettuce in a wreath and put the pear half in center, filling it with the cottage cheese and mayonnaise.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Queen of Bread Puddings
1 pint soft bread crumbs
1 quart milk
1 cup sugar

4 eggs, whites reserved
2 tablespoons butter
1 lemon
Meringue: 4 egg whites beaten stiff and mixed with 3 Tbsps. brown sugar.
Warm the milk, stir in the cup of sugar, grated lemon rind and butter. Beat egg yolks and strain into hot milk. Take from fire and pour over the crumbs, already in a shallow buttered casserole. Bake slowly until firm but soft. Take from oven and squeeze over top of pudding the juice of the lemon.

spread with meringue and put back to brown. Chill for serving, or serve hot if desired.

English Meat Pudding
Pastry
2 cups flour sifted with 2 teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt
1 cup suet run through fine chopper knife
Water to mix to stiff paste
Filling
3 pounds round steak, cut in dice 3 to 10 small onions, halved

1 small bunch parsley, chopped
Salt and pepper
1 cup water
Make up the pastry as you would a stiff biscuit dough. Take two-thirds of it and roll to fit a good sized bowl or pan, the edges hanging over a full inch. Put in meat, onions, parsley, seasonings and water. Cover with a top of pastry, dampen the sides and fold over, pinching well. Wet a big cloth, dredge thickly with flour and tie over the top of the bowl, knot at bottom of bowl. Set in a kettle of boiling water and boil for two hours. (I find it wise to dredge the raw meat with flour and to add a little more liquid, in that way there's lots of gravy.)

Saturday: Baked apple roll and Baked Meat Rolls, all on one dinner.

What Is The Soundest Investment?

Real Estate is the safest property, the only property that is permanent and that its owner really controls.

In good times and bad, in doubtful times and boom times, there is just one real wealth, and that is well selected REAL ESTATE.

The first Real Estate investment should be the purchase of a home, enabling the owner to say "This piece of earth is mine, it will belong to my family after I am gone and be an inspiration in the minds of my children as long as they live."

We will appreciate an opportunity to show you several highly desirable homes—one of which may be exactly the home of your dreams—for instance

318 Grant St.

Can be purchased on our BUDGET PLAN and has been completely
